END OF THE BATTLE.

Vote on Tariff Bill Will Be Taken This Evening.

THE INCOME TAX IS TACKED ON.

The Bill Is Expected to Have a Fair Majority.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.-At 12 o'clock today the tariff bill was reported to the house. Three hours are allowed for closing the debate, 1 1-2 hours on a side. At 3-o'clock the vote will be taken upon the bill and pending amendments. Several separate votes will probably be demanded on amendments, among them being the amendment abolishing the

Under the rule the only motion which can intervene before the final vote is taken upon the passage of the bill after the amendments are disposed of is a motion to recommit, with or without instruc-tions. As the Republicans have decided to refuse to join in this effort to recommit the bill it is a foregone conclusion that it will be defeated, if made.

A semi-official estimate made by Chairman Wilson and some of his friends upon the committee who have scanned the situfollows: Democrats, 182; Populists, 11; total, 193; against 126 Republicans, 32 Democrats and 1 Populist; total, 159.

At the last night session of the tariff debate the speakers were Messrs. Baker, Bingham, Hooker, Kem, Caminetti, Cummings, Stallings, Cooper, Blanchard, Ryan, Pascall, McCleary and Houk. Mr. Cummings made a vigorous speech against the bill, attacking it all along the line. It was after midnight when the The Internal Revenue.

The internal revenue bill is now a part of the tariff bill, and the vote by which the two measures were joined together showed that there is no danger of the tariff bill failing because of this consol

In a vote representing about two-thirds of the full voting strength of the house, there were only 56 votes in opposition to attaching the income tax to the main bill, while 175 were in favor of it. Of the 56 men who voted against the in come tax the vote was about evenly divided between the two sides. The solid New York Democratic delegation voted in opposition and as was expected Mr. Stevens cast his vote against the income tax. After the Tariff Bill.

The time of the house for the next three days will be taken up with a discustrations, a discussiwhich will give the Republicans a chance to indulge in a good deal of oratory of the

Haven and Hartford. A four-horse sleigh owned by Charles Kirby, containing 3 high school scholars, boys and girls, in charge of Instructor Everett B. Durfee, with his wife, was returning from a ride

When the party reached the grade crossing the gates were not lowered, and the sleigh started across. Horses and half the sleigh had cleared the track when a train from Boston hove in sight around the bend, 100 feet distant. Some of the children saw it coming and jumped for their lives. Instructor Durfee was seated in the rear end of the sleigh, holding Clark Chase in his lap. He leaped out clasping the boy in his arms, and escaped On the right of the teacher and at the end of the sleigh sat Brooks Borden, 1 years old. On the other side sat Henry Hawkins holding Ray Thornton, 15 years old. By a miraculous chance Hawkins escaped. The locomotive struck the rear end of the sleigh, throwing Borden into the air. He was picked up dead. Thorn ton was ground nearly to pieces, his head being severed from his body. Austin Swift was terribly injured and will die.

The rest of the party escaped. The train was running on schedule time. The crossing tender, whose neglect probably caused the accident, disappeared shortly afterward. All the children in the sleigh belonged to prominent fam ilies, and the horrible accident has thrown a gloom over the entire community.

Editorial Comment.

A SUBWAY for Boston has always seemed to us a remarkably foolish venture, Quincy Firemen's Relief association. and it is a pleasure to note that one representative has attempted to repeal the act. The uncertainty as to the cost is enough 10 prs. Ladies' Heavy Coat Walk. Boots, to condemn it. In an interview Representative McCarthy of Charlestown says:

"I have put in this bill repealing the subway act because the whole thing is a fraud-a gigantic swindle. I had rather today see the $5,000,000 which it is proposed to spend in building the subway divided among the poor people of the city than put into a hole in the ground where it will never be of any use to anyone. The act was passed last year during the closing days of the session, and I have my doubts if any one who voted for it at the time had any faith whatever in the measure. Now the public is beginning to see that the scheme is a foolish one and the press is going back on it. I think there is sufficient reasons for the passage of my bill."

WE HAVE received from Hon. D. W. Voorhees, chairman of the Finance Committee of the U.S. Senate, a full set of interrogatories on the subject of tariff rates and the existing depression in trade, which have been submitted as far as possiole to individuals and firms throughout the country. They are addressed to manuacturers, to importers, to merchants, to oards of trade, etc., to labor organizations, and to agriculturists. We are requested to publish the same in full free of charge, but as we cannot afford the time and space, we call the attention of interested parties, who may obtain the circulars of inquiry on

NOTICE TO INVENTORS.

THERE Was never a time in the history of our country when the demand for inventions and improvements in the arts and ventions and improvements in the arts and sciences generally was so great as now. The conveniences of mankind in the factory and work-shop, the household, on the farm, and in official life, require continual accessions to the appurtances and implements of each in order to save labor, time and expense. The political change in the administration of government does not affect the progress of the American inventor, who, being on the alert and ready to perceive the existing deficiences, does not permit the affairs of government to deter him from quickly conceiving the remedy to overcome existing discrepancies. Too great care cannot be exercised in choosing a competent and skilful attorney to prepare and prosecute an appliance. been lost and destroyed in innumerable instances by the employment of incompetent counsel, and especially is this advice applicable to those who adopt the "No patent, no pay" system. Inventors who intrust their business to this class of attorneys do so at imminent risk, as the breadth and strength of the patent is never considered in view of a quick endeavor to get an allowance and obtain the fee then due. #### Woman In English Politics.

The woman canvasser is a picturesque feature of English politics not yet familiar in this country. At one of the re cent elections the women canvassers, who really love the heat and burden of the day, received their reward in this world, for the day before election the leading Liberal paper in London paid a handsome tribute to the untiring and successful exertions of the 60 women canvassers who had been working on be half of the ministerial candidates. "They went in," wrote the special correspondent," where the mere male canvasser had ignominiously failed, and they came out victorious. A voter whom a persuasive woman cannot get the better of is clearly beyond the reach of all human argument." London high society has been exasperated recently by a series of articles in the St. James Gazette detailing the experiences of an American young woman who advertised for a chaperon who could introduce her into court and other exclusive circles. Elizabeth L. Banks, who recently started a lively controversy by her investigation of the domestic servant problem, assumed the role of the American heiress. The mass of replies which were received from more or less impecunious persons of title, although printed without the names of the writers, has made a genuine sensation. Reed Takes the Floor.

Mr. Reed's speech was delivered slowly and impressively, and was in defense of the McKinley bill and an attack upon

He asserted that the great bulk of the dll could not be defended on any other round than the principles of free trade, saying: "Those who will vote against this bill will do so because it opens our market to the destructive competition of foreigners, and those who vote for it do it with the reservation that they will instantly devote themselves to a new crusade against whatever barriers are left. "Protection gives us money and men, and our vast country needs both. It may show why we have so wonderfully prospered. If it does, I am inclined to think that the way to have two jobs hunting one man is to keep on making new mills and try to prevent the committee on ways and means from pulling down old ones. "But,' says one gentleman, fuller of political economy than of sense, 'why do you not transfer your capital from these protected industries to the more profitable?' Yes, that would be a good idea. We will commence in West Virginia and take up the coal mine holes and stick them lown somewhere else, unless we can utilize them as places of refuge for the mmittee after the election. There i what used to be $8,000,000 worth of stuff belonging to the people that make screws. Let us take that up, but it is not worth $800,000, let alone $8,000,000. The bill has dropped $7,200,000-that cannot be transferred anywhere. England's Riches.

"It is the immense profits which come of converting raw material into manuactured goods which has made England ich. She is a huge workshop, doing the nost profitable work of the world, chang ng raw material to finished product. S

Alabama (Mr. Wheeler), who told me in your presence that the value of all the cotton raised in the United States was only $300,000,000, while the finished duct of that cotton was $1,750,000,000 When cotton leaves the field it is worth $300,000,000; when it leaves the mill it is worth six times as much. On our own cotton crop alone we might in time make the profits on a $1,500,000,000 of manufac tured goods. Nor is there anything to prevent such a result in a protective tariff."

Crisp's Argument.

Speaker Crisp followed Mr. Reed, and he eceived an ovation. Mr. Crisp declared that an examination of the protective system would show that while it was built up for the ostensible benefit of labor it was in truth con structed for the benefit of the manufac-turing classes. He pointed out that to wages of laborers in protected industries went down and those in unprotected in dustries went up as a result of the Mo "I can show how protection hurts the farmer," said the speaker, "but I defy farmer." He proceeded to elaborate the idea that all the farmer's products, corn wheat and cotton, were sold in the fre trade markets of the world, while all the termer consumed was bought in a re stricted, protected market. "The gentleman from Maine," said he, "had stated that the corn laws in England, ostensibly made in the interest of English farmers. were in reality made in the interest of the landowners of England.

"True," declared Mr. Crisp, emphat: cally, "but he should also have told y that a protective tariff, always defen in the laborers' interest, is in reality ma for the benefit of the protected manufact turers-America's noblemen. "High wages here are not the result of protection; the fertility of the soil, the wonderful resources of our country, th independence and intelligence of the peo ple, all unite to make good wages.

Wages of Workingmen. 'Wages here are more dependent up the independence of the laborer, the trades unions, and the consciousness of her power, which enable him to demand, exact his rights, than upon protective is not a manufacturer in the United States that will not sell his goods in India, or any other country, if he can ge a little more for them there than he can get in this country, and he has a right t it. The gentleman talks about a hom market. What is a market? A market is a place where we can buy and sell. The protective tariff forces the people to buy in the highest market in the world, and forces the agriculturalists to sell in the cheapest possible market.

"Of all the nations of the earth, only one people are excluded from our shores-the Chinese. The laboring men of that country built a wall about themselve and reduced themselves to such a scale that the American people absolutely for bade them to come here. If you want to see a type of what the protective thriff will do," said he, raising his hand aloft, impressively, "we point you to China where, for thousands of years, the peopl have experienced the effect of trading with themselves.

"Let us pass this bill," he concluded, the people, and if it is crystallized int law, while there may be some monopolis or wealthy man who may complain, in the homes of the farmers, the workingman, the laborers in the fields and in the cities, there will be rejoicing that we have relieved them of some of the burdens placed upon them. It will encourage agriculture and conduce to the prosperity of all classes of American citizens."

As the speaker ceased, the Democratic side rose with a cheer, and the galleries waved hats and handkerchiefs, while a fleet-footed page scurried up the aisle with a floral tribute. Amid a confused din the speaker made his way through his fellow Democrats, vainly seeking to grasp his hand, ascended the rostrum and as-

He recognized the chairman of the ways and means committee, Mr. Wilson, whose appearance on a side aisle was the signal for another outburst on the floor and in

"Jessie," said Anton Mosby, the forester, to his daughter, "why do you him? I've warned you often enough. When a man is ashamed to tell his business, it doesn't take much discernment to see that something is wrong. "I know that it is lonesome here, Jessie, with no one but me for company, and when we can afford it we shall go where you can have better advantages, but that fellow Hayes is not the right kind, and I don't want you to 2 have anything at all to do with him. I've left word with Dick to have his horse ready when he gets back, for he has got to leave this place today. Of course I've got no proof that he is a bad one, his brace of pistols. I tell you a rifle is good enough here against anything but the sheriff's posse. But I must go; remember what I say and don't look for me back before night," and Mosby turned away.

Anton Mosby's occupation was to protect a large section of pine timber owned by an eastern company from encroachments by rival firms and necessitated long tramps along the boundaries of the great forest estate. His home was located in a small clearing not large enough to escape the shadows of out into the forest, past Mosby's house, and then at the distance of a mile or so a pine tree on account of a few wolves. divided, one branch turning south and civilization, the other running several quarry which was dug in the side of a rocky ledge

After Mosby's departure Jessie went on with her work indoors with a heavy heart. Her father's suspicion that the man Hayes, who had been sojourning with them, was only a refugee from justice, pained her. He had always been very obliging about the house, had books in his saddlebags and sometimes read aloud to her, which was a matter of real entertainment, and while she did not care for him she felt extremely sorry for the treatment he received at her father's hands. She had to confess, however, on thinking it over, that it was a queer place for a man to come whose only occupation was pleasure.

Her father had an idea that some day an officer of the law would ride into their little clearing and demand a pris-Thayer, Miss K. Dyer, C. G. Littlefield, oner; that a scene would follow, and the prisoner, escaping, would seek safe-

When Mosby went on the tramp, he invariably took his rifle with him, hoping to obtain enough pelts during the ship.

"Wolves," he used to say to Hayes, 'are about all the game you will find about these quarters, but if you want to kill any you'd better throw away your six shooters and get a rifle, for all the things are good for is to kill men, and I recken the people around here are a peaceable lot. A warm breeze swayed the tops of the huge pines; this and the sticks which crackled under his feet were all that broke the silence of the night-all until from the distance came suddenly to his ears the hoarse baying of a wolf. From time to time it was repeated, un til from another direction arose an answering howl, prolonged and mournful.

Mosby plodded along, giving little

The howling of the pack suddenly ceased as one of their number rolled in the sand, and Mosby after reloading, started on a trot toward a small opening. Before he reached it they were in pursuit again.

Mosby fired again, but missed his aim. For a moment they hesitated, their eyes shining in the darkness, and then gnashing their fangs rushed forward into the light. Mosby's heavy rifle whirled around his head and descended on the skull of the foremos wolf, but the beasts, crazed with hunger, had lost all fear, and Mosby saw that he had met his fate. END CAME EARLY THIS MORNING.

A Sketch of the Career of the Beloved Philanthropist.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 3.—George Childs' illness ended in his death at 3:01 this morning. At midnight his physicians issued a bulletin, stating that his respiration, which became embarrassed at 10 p. m., was steadily growing worse; that his pulse was lagging, and his condition was beyond hope. After midnight the patient sank rapidly, and it soon became certain that the end was very near.

At the bedside when the beloved journalist and philanthropist passed away were George C. Thomas and James W. Paul of the firm of Drexel & Co.; Mr. and Mrs. John Drexel; Miss Peterson, niece of Mrs. Childs; Miss Stanley, companion to Mrs. Childs, and Colonel Edward De

Sketch of His Career. George W. Childs gave his money away in the most practical and the most impractical fashion. He pensioned all who wore out in his service, which was very practical. He would subscribe to put a stained glass window in a church in memory of a poet who had been dead two centuries, though an ocean rolled be-tween that church and Mr. Childs' business office. This was very impractical. The truth is that Mr. Childs' charities were so numerous and embraced so wide a range that they touched the extremi-

One of the first successful books published by Peterson & Childs was Dr. Kane's "Arctic Explorations." Then the firm got out Parson Brownlow's book, selling 50,000 copies in advance. This was another remarkable success, which was followed by others not far behind.

In 1864 Mr. Childs purchased The Pubic Ledger. The war, by greatly increasng the cost of labor and material, chiefly white paper, had made it impossible to continue, save at a loss, the publication of The Ledger as a penny paper. It had been sold at a cent ever since it was started in 1836, and Messrs. An ivory miniature of Washington, se in gold, has a lock of his hair in the back of the locket under glass. Tom Moore's college gown hangs on a chair, a faded, rusty garment in which it is said the poe graduated, and his harp, 18 inches in height, painted green and gilded, stands under a glass cover on the table.

There are Japanese carvings of bambo wood and Cloisonne, royal Worcester china, Sevres china, a Moorish repousse silver gilt pitcher 700 years old, an exquisite little silver jewel casket which be-longed to Sir Walter Raleigh, a carved Japanese stone (very rare), a Buddhist hanging lamp and some relics of the Greely expedition. General Grant's pio ture hangs above Mr. Childs' desk, and the tall Dutch clock presented by Mrs. Grant marks the passing hours.

MR. CHILDS' CITY HOME. Mr. Childs' residence is in keeping with so splendid an office. The library is par ticularly rich in rare books, original let ters from all the presidents of the United States, and many other distinguished personages. There are also the original copies of Milton's "Paradise Lost" and Dickens' "Our Mutual Friend," which probably set the printers into a frenzy of bewilderment.

Lord Byron's writing desk is another in teresting relic, as well as the "Black Book of Taymouth" in a rich binding of black became noticeable, up to the time of his calf, with the tooling in clear gold. The shelves of the library are filled with pres

In 1888 there was a movement made to bring Mr. Childs' name forward for the presidency, but he peremptorily declined to permit his friends to do so. Other less important offices have been often suggested for him, but he always seemed to o'clock on the eventful night, Mrs. Mey prefer to manage The Public Ledger. One of Mr. Childs' hobbies was the cul-

A Finely Planned Robbery Which Failed to Materialize.

PHILADELPHIA. Feb. 3.—One of the most daring schemes at robbery ever concocted In this city was revealed when Victor H. Echorn of the Pennsylvania Salt Works company endeavored to steal $15,000 of the company's money from the runner of the Southwark bank. It was a finely matured sceme, and was carried out in every detail, with the exception that instead of getting the $15,000 the man got a bag full of bricks and paper, and was himself caught red-handed.

Echorn's plan was to have the runner 000 to meet the bi-weekly payroll, way- is increased by the tact that several Muslaid and robbed. County Attorney True conducted the cross-examination and has worked night and day to secure One lot of Misses' Ribbed FLEECED the verdict which was returned.

Attorney General Powers finished his argument about 4:30 o'clock, and Judge Bonney began his charge to the jury. The charge was very brief, the judge simply instructing the jury as to their duties, and at 4:45 gave them the case and sent them out. During the absence of the jury, the courtroom remained crowded. was a general feeling that a verdict of acquittal would be obtained inside of an hour, though some thought that the jury would disagree.

At 6:15 the jury returned. A hush fell upon the audience. Prawda turned ashy pale and clasped and unclasped his hands nervously. His wife almost screamed. The foreman of the jury formally announced that the jury found the prisoner guilty of murder in the first degree. Prawda fell back in his chair motionless. His wife fainted and all the spectators were greatly excited. Counsel for the defense stated that he should file excep tions and enter a motion for a new trial. Evidence Circumstantial.

The state's evidence was entirely circum stantial. On the night of Nov. 28 Prawda ers was shot through the head by a bul-let, fired through a window. This bullet was found, and it was shown that the person who fired the shot must have stood within 20 yards of the window. Prawda told several neighbors that his mother-in-law had been killed by an ex-plosion of a lamp. He told newspaper men and others many different stories. He did not own a gun, but a neighbo named Moxcey had one stolen from him two years ago, and the fatal bullet was of the same caliber. This was all the evi dence of the state.

sung— I sing the woman who can hold her tongue At evening circle, picnic or high tea; In fact, wherever she may chance to be, And listen to the gossip of the town— How Mrs. A has turned her cashmere gown, And Mr. B has cut young Dr. C For telling tales of flirty Widow D, And Lawyer E is smitten with Miss F, And Deacon G is fast becoming deaf, And, oh, much more—as if she never heard Of all the ceaseless chat a single word— And who, not only at such times as these-I mean lawn parties, sewing bees and teas— But at all seasons, when it's for the best, Can keep her thoughts close prisoned in her breast, And though a spark may glitter in her eye, To speech unworthy it ne'er gives reply. Alas! alas! let no one look at me, For with regret I own I am not she. Were I, I really shouldn't think it wrong, For once, to celebrate myself in song. But she must be somewhere, so I had sung The wondrous woman who can hold her tongue.

of the Country.

WOOL TRADE IS DEMORALIZED.

Little Better Employed.

NEW YORK, Feb. 3.-A fresh impulse has been given to business this week by the success of the treasury in obtaining gold for its reserve, thus strengthening confidence in its ability to maintain gold payments. Gradual improvement in business explains the appearance of more ATLANTIC - Brancheid's News Agency commercial paper in the market this week than has been seen for a long time, though as yet the vast accumulation of idle funds is proof enough that trade has by no means regained normal propor-

Stocks have been stronger since the result as to the bonds were foreshadowed. Other speculative markets have been almost stagnant.

Wheat has advanced about half a cent, because western reports were only 1,446,-404 bushels for the week, against 2,893,000 last year, though there are no signs of material decrease in the enormous visible supply, and Atlantic exports dwindled to 413,990 bushels for the week, against 1,404,471 last year. Smaller receipts and exports of corn

Cotton and Wool. Cotton advanced a shade, but closed without change from last week, receipts from plantations still exceeding last year's, though less than of late, while exports continue larger than a year ago. Foreign consumption is heavy, but American mills are taking much less than a year ago. The market for cotton goods has a better tone and more staples have been taken, particularly print cloths, with a slight advance in price, but all qualities are extremely low, and scarcely any increase in the working force is seen.

Some demoralization is again reported in prices of woolens, friezes having been reduced in price and trade in overcoatings is not satisfactory. There is more activity in suitings since the date for new duties was deferred, but not many lines of the better grades are yet on the market. Sales of wool are still small; for the week, 4,505,700 pounds against 8,178,000 last Eastern trade in boots and shoes still hesitates, with Boston shipments 23 per cent below last year's, but western factories are reported a little better employed, about 15 per cent below the full capacity. Larger demand for structural iron and

VERMONT'S NEW BISHOP.

Many Distinguished Churchmen Attend

BURLINGTON, Vt., Feb. 3 .- An event fraught with interest to the Protestant Episcopal churches throughout the United States and New England was the consecration of Dr. Arthur C. A. Hall, D. D., as bishop of the diocese of Vermont, which took place in St. Paul's church, at 11 o'clock yesterday. This imposing communication was the states and New England was the consecration of the states of the consecration of the states of the posing ceremony was witnessed by distin-guished men of the church from all parts of the United States and Canada, and only a small part of those who desired to see the impressive service could gain access to the church.

It had been necessary to assign all sittings by lot to the various parishes after reserving accommodations for the visiting clergymen and others, and every available foot of space was occupied.

The ceremony was preceded by the holy communion at 7:30 o'clock and morning prayers at 9:30. Shortly before the hour for the services to begin the bishops and clergymen proceeded in procession from the chapel to the church and the services were carried out in order.

The consecrators were Bishops Neely of Maine, Niles of New Hampshire, and Lawrence of Massachusetts. The presenters were Bishops Grafton of Fon Du Lac and Coleman of Delaware. The athave not prevented a slight decline, and pork products are dull without important Bliss of the diocese of Vermont and Rev. Dr. Lucius Waterman of the diocese of New Hampshire. The master of cere-monies was Rev. William W. Weeks of the diocese of Vermont.

The bishop-elect was escorted to the altar by a procession, in which Bishop Lawrence of Massachusetts was a prominent figure, and the preliminary responses and readings were given in ac cordance with the Episcopal ritual before Bishop Coleman ascended the pulpit to preach the consecration sermon.

A luncheon was served immediately af ter the service in the church parlors, for the personal friends of Dr. Hall, the clergy of the diocese and the visiting clergy with their families and members of the diocesan board.

At 3 p. m. a reception was given to Bishop Hall in the chapel, to which every one was invited.

PRINCE IS MISSING.

Sensation Which Furnishes Ample Material For Berlin Gossips.

BERLIN, Feb. 3.-Military and social circles here are discussing a sensation which has been caused by the complete disappearance of Prince Assiz Hassam, a young Egyptian nobleman who was serving in the First Dragoons in the garrison in this city.

Prince Hassam has been living in a very extravagant style, employing a number of servants and having a number of horses and carriages. At the opera, the theater and at several clubs the young Egyptian prince was remarked for his stylish appearance and extreme liberality. On the race courses, also, Prince Assiz Hassam was a prominent figure, as he was a heavy bettor and an unfortunate backer of fast steeds.

Then the prince turned to the usurers and began borrowing money. The usurers accommodated him for a while, but when his debts amounted to $75,000 they refused to advance any more money. A few days ago the effects of the Egyptian "Plunger" were seized and the matter was brought to the attention of the colonel of his regiment, who gave him 20 days in which to make some satisfactory arrangement with his creditors.

Apparently Prince Hassam was unable to come to terms, for he has vanished from the sight of all of his acquaintances, and the most diligent search has failed to find any trace of him.

OUTCOME UNCERTAIN

House Will Settle the Hawaiian Matter Tomorrow Afternoon.

SILVER WILL THEN COME UP.

Senaie Will Get the Elections Bill Out of the Way.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5 .- The Hawaiian debate, Mr. Bland's bill for the coinage o the silver seigniorage in the treasury, the O'Neill-Joy contested election case, and perhaps the fortification appropriations bill, will occupy the attention of the house this week.

By an arangemeent agreed upon just before the house adjourned Saturday, the Hawaiian debate is to be extended until 3:30 tomorrow, the special order for its consideration being modified so as to include a provision for a vote upon the Boutelle resolution, as well as the McCreary and Hitt resolution.

The extension of the time will serve the purpose of definitely disposing of Hawaii in the house. Had the order not been modified, it was Mr. Boutelle's intention to come to the front tomorrow with his resolution. As it was a privileged question it could not have been laid aside, and might have resulted in additional com plications, so that the Democratic leaders concluded that the shortest way out of the difficulty would be to agree to the compromise.

As yet, no Democrat has broken over party lines on the Hawaiian matter, as far as debate is concerned, and it seems likely that the McCreary resolution will pass by practically a strict party vote Mr. Holman, however, is still bent upon offering his resolution condemning the action of Mr. Stevens. How much Democratic strength this resolution will com-mand is still problematical.

Bland and Silver. On Wednesday Mr. Bland will call up his bill for the coinage of the silver seigniorage in the treasury (amounting to over $55,000,000), that sum to be made immediately available, if necessary, to meet the wants of the treasury by the issuance under the act of 1890. Mr. Bland and want to relieve the treasury in this way, is probable that during the debate there will be a heavy outcropping of criticis of the action of Secretary Carlisle in s far as it related to the use of the proceeds of the sale of bonds to pay the current expenses of the government.

The Republicans will take the position indicated by the minority report that there is silver seigniorage in the treasury, the bullion against which notes were issued under the act of 1890 not having been coined. They will also take the position that while the coinage value of lar, and could only be sustained by the credit of the government. Mr. Bland expects that the debate upon his bill will not last over two days.

On Friday the O'Neill-Joy contested election case will come up, and, if disposed of on that day, will be followed by the fortifications appropriation bill.

Senate Forecast. The first two days of this week in the senate will be taken up with the federal elections bill to the exclusion of everything else, except the routine morning

The senate has agreed that the discussion of the bond resolution of Senator Stewart, which, under ordinary circumstances, would have the right of way up to 2 o'clock of each day until disposed of will go over until Wednesday, to permit the uninterrupted continuation of the debate on the elections bill, upon which the vote will be taken tomorrow after-

The agreement provides that the sen ate shall sit tomorrow until this measure PORTLAND, Me., Feb. 5.—The Gloucester schooner James and Ella, which arrived here yestesday from Georges Bank, had everything movable swept from her decks last Tuesday night. She sprung aleak and the water rose until the cabin is disposed of, and in all probability it will kind in the senate are not always considered as violated in such instances.

There is also an agreement that the discussion of the bond resolution shall be resumed on Wednesday, and the week is likely to produce several speeches upon this question. It is possible that the Hawaiian resolution introduced by Senator Turpie, from the foreign relations committee, or the house resolution on the same subject, which will probably reach the senate during the week, will receive a degree of attention, but it is hardly probable that much, if any, time will be given it, because of the other subjects pressing for attention.

NOTICE TO INVENTORS.

THERE Was never a time in the history of our country when the demand for inventions and improvements in the arts and sciences generally was so great as now. The conveniences of mankind in the factory and work-shop, the household, on the farm, and work-snop, the household, of the larm, and in official life, require continual accessions to the appurtances and implements of each in order to save labor, time and expense. The political change in the administration of government does not affect the progress of the American inventor, who, being on the alert and ready to perceive the existing deficiences, does not permit the affairs of government to deter him from quickly conceiving the remedy to overcome existing discrepancies. Too great care cannot be exercised in choosing a competent and skilful crepancies. Too great care cannot be exercised in choosing a competent and skilful attorney to prepare and prosecute an application for patent. Valuable interests have been lost and destroyed in innumerable instances by the employment of incompetent counsel, and especially is this advice applicable to those who adopt the "No patent, no pay" ystem. Inventors who intrust their pusinges to this class of attorneys do so at minent risk, as the breadth and strengt the parent is never considered in view of a of the parent is never considered in view of a quick endeavor to get an allowance and obtain the fee then due. Vessels of foreign nations were and by this marriage had a little girl permitted freely to enter the bay, dis-charge their cargoes at the wharves, re-load and quietly depart. When Admiral da Gama, after issuing his pronunciamento against Peixoto, deserted the government, he joined De Mello and issued cured employment in a fancy leather his famous imperial manifesto; he also declared with a great deal of emphasis that he meant from that time forth to stop all commerce with Rio de Janeiro, and by this means practically destroy the revenue which the Brazilian government was receiving from this course.

Da Gama's Warning.

Following close upon this declaration he issued a warning to all vessels, no matter to what nationality they belonged, that they must not attempt to discharge their cargoes or they would rue it. Following this example, set by their superior officer, the other insurgent leaders made use of the same threats.

When information of what they had done reached the ears of the United States minister, Mr. Thompson, he immediately "Mother," he used to say, "when I am worn In days to come with writing, you shall bring This bud of April on your shoulder borne," made a vigorous protest, in the course of which he insisted that Admiral da Gama had no right to institute such a blockade. had no right to institute such a blockade. No matter what the ministers of other countries thought of the order, Mr. Thompson said that he felt it his duty to demand ample protection for all vessels flying the flag of his country.

Minister Thompson did not rest satisfied with this protest, but promptly paid a visit to Commander Henry F. Picking, who was then in command of the American vessels here, and asked him in the most decided manner to afford protection o all American vessels.

In reply to Minister Thompson, Comnander Picking said that if an American sailor was shot while his vessel was in the act of discharging her cargo, he would promptly prosecute the captain of the rebel warship which was responsible for the sailor's death. Beyond this Commander Picking seemed unwilling to go, and Minister Thompson was thus rendered powerless to do anything more for the protection of American shipping.

executed at 7:10 this morning. The execution of Vaillant was determined upon yesterday. The news was only known late last evening. The people began gathering soon afterward and the crowd kept increasing rapidly in size until 2 o'clock this morning, when a fine rain commenced to fall.

Workmen then started to erect barricades across all the streets leading into the square, from which the people were driven by the police at 2:50 a.m. At that hour, the Gardes Republicaine arrived on the scene. The cafes and wine shops were all crowded with the lowest classes of citizens, who loudly commented upon the injustice of sending Vaillant to the guillotine, as he had killed nobody.

Four companies of the Gardes Repubgardes formed around the square.

Talk on the Hawaiian Matter and Attack the Administration.

MORSE SPEAKS OF "CUCKOOS"

And Boutelle Pays His Respects to the President.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6 .- Mr. Morse presented a memorial to the house from the Massachusetts legislature protesting against the passage of certain schedules in the Wilson tariff bill as destructive and fatal to industries of Massachusetts.

The house then took up the Hawaiian resolution. Mr. Johnson arraigned the administration and declared that if its efforts to restore the queen had been successful, there would have been witnessed for the first time the successful impeach ment of an American executive.

Mr. Johnson yielded two minutes to Mr. Morse, who said: "There is one remark that I did not have time to make, which I desire to add to my speech of Saturday evening. For the last 25 years, since the days of reconstruction began, at the close of the war, the shibboleth in the south has been the cry of a white man's government.'

"On one side of this controversy is a dissolute colored female. She has none of the glamour which attaches to royalty by birth. Her father was a colored barber. On the other side are not only white men and women, but nearly or quite all the virtuous and intelligent white people of the islands.
"And yet, strange to tell, at the command of their master, the great Grover Cleveland, his supporters, the cuckoos in the house and in the senate, staunch southern Democrats, the loudest shouters for a white man's government, disregard all their ancient traditions about white supremacy and the white man's govern-

Mr. Outhwaite took exception to these words and demanded that they be taken down and that the gentleman be called to

The speaker, after weighing the words gave his opinion that the language was not parliamentary; that no member had a right to speak of any member of the house or senate as being controlled by th ir master, the president. Mr. Morse afterward withdrew the ob jectionable words relative to the control of the Democrats by their master, the president; and all was peace and harmony n the house again.

Mr. Patterson took as his text the sugar

a dollar into the treasury. Boutelle Again.

Mr. Boutelle, in defending the action Minister Stevens, said that his greatest crime was that he always had at heart the interest of the American government and bring that charge against the president.

He went into the history of the Ameritee on foreign affairs. He said there were no strictures for any one except Stevens and Wiltse. Nothing was to be said of President Cleveland, Minister Willis or Mr. Blount, who had dragged the fair fame of the country in the dust.

Mr. Boutelle said the president had sent a minister to President Dole, bearing in one hand a letter expressive of friendship and good will, and in the other an order of assassination. He closed with a recital of the lines of Graham Adee on the hauling down of the flag at Hawaii.

Mr. Black replied to assertions made in Mr. Boutelle's resolutions reflecting on the president, saying that Mr. Cleveland was the first president who had ever taken the American people into his confidence in such matters. Van Voorhis appealed for annexation of the islands. Mr. Griffin said that he cordially and enthusiastically indorsed the administra-

At 5:30 the house took a recess. Talked to Empty Seats.

Only four members were present when Mr. Hall began to speak at the evening session in support of the administration. A half dozen others came in subsequently. Mr. Hall charged that the revolution was the result of a conspiracy made possible by the covert aid of Mr. Stevens and the presence of the United States troops. He endorsed the policy of the administration.

Mr. Post contended that the attempt of the administration to restore a debauched and discarded queen could not be condoned or wiped out by the passage of a partisan resolution. Mr. Stillings took the position that Mr.

Stevens was a party to the revolution and should be censured by the house. Mr. Lacey and Mr. Stockdale were the last speakers. At 10:30 p. m. the house adjourned.

In the Senate.

In the senate yesterday morning Mr. Hale offered a resolution instructing the committee on finance to give opportunities to all parties who believe their interests are affected by the tariff bill to be heard before action is reported to the senate. At Mr. Hale's request, it was laid upon the table, to be called up later. The house bill to repeal the federal elections law was taken up, and the rest of the day was devoted to the discussion of the

MADEAU IS PLUCKY.

Performs a Difficult Task For Maine Deputy Sheriff. FORT KENT, Me., Feb. 6 .- Nadeau, the Aroostook outlaw, who held at bay the United States marshal's posse sent to arrest him, and who wounded Deputy United States Marshal McNally in the exchange of shots which occurred a year ago, and who yet defies the officers to come and take him from his barricaded hovel near Fort Kent, has distinguished himself again. This time he played the part of sheriff and entered the camp of a tough gang of woodsmen and arrested fellow wanted on the same charge for which he is wanted: selling liquor without a government license.

Nadeau, always fully armed, comes in town occasionally for supplies. Every-body fears him, and the fear is fostered by his readiness to flash up a gun at the slightest provocation. Last week he was in Page's grocery store when a deputy crowd of bad men who had sworn to pro- special train this morning. tect him. The deputy sheriff confessed that he feared to enter the woods. ### CREW IN A HOSPITAL.

Voyage of the Steamer Astatria Proved Most Disastrous.

REACHES HALIFAX IN DISTRESS.

Stories of Hardships Suffered by Other Vessels.

HALIFAX, Feb. 7.- The British steamer Astatria, which sailed from Newport News, Va., Jan. 27, for Hamburg, and which was reported by the German steamer H. H. Meier as making for this port with rudder broken, arrived off this place in distress and was towed into quarantine, where she now lies.

She reports after leaving Newport News all went well until Jan. 30, when in lat. 39, lon. 69.40, at about 9 p.m., a upon a few points concerning which ther southwest gale was encountered. The has been considerable discussion. The rudder and rudder post were carried away by the tremendous seas, which caused the steamer to broach to, and the seas made a foul while the batsman is trying to clean breach fore and aft.

Nos. 2 and 4 hatches were torn from their fastenings, and it required all hands, except the third engineer and some firevessel was shortly afterward boarded by another sea greater than the first, which carried away the two port lifeboats and one starboard boat, the other starboard boat being smashed.

Carried All Before It. The terrific force of water broke four iron deck ladders off and gutted the chart house. All the nautical instruments and the other contents were lost. One main-steam pipe and the steam whistles were carried away. The bunker ports were stove in, and all the officers' berths and other berths amidships were flooded. The aftercabin door, made of two-inch teak, was smashed to atoms, and the cabin was flooded. The deck railing, made of iron an inch and a half in diameter, was bent and twisted into scrolls.

All the crew who were forward at the time the biggest wave came aboard were struck by it and hurled in all directions, and four were washed overboard. The returning wave brought three back, and eyes of his shipmates. All this time the steamer, being without a rudder, rolled in the trough of the sea, and the tons of the National League. CINCINNATI, Feb. 7.-The committee on rules of the National Baseball league completed its sittings here last night The rules as a whole are not materially changed, but the committee has touched upon a few points concerning which there committee first defines a bunt hit. I advance a runner by a bunt sacrific a strike shall be called. Amendment i also suggested to the rule regarding strikes, providing that a strike shall be called if the batsman strikes at a ball which touches him. Noisy coaching is also touched upon, and the umpire is given additional power to remove players in certain cases. A fly to the outfield is not to be counted a sacrifice. Other rule are amended to fit these changes.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7 .- Without the in tervention of any business of account th house took up the consideration of the be, censuring ex-Minister Stevens for his course in Hawaii.

Mr. Outhwaite asserted that Minister Stevens was in league with the sugar planters of Hawaii. Mr. Culberson defended the resolutio in a legal argument.

Mr. Everett defended the course pur sued by President Cleveland. He said that he had decided the case on its merits, but when he found he could not restore the queen without force, he referred the whole matter to congress.

Mr. Loud opposed the resolution and

A BITTER CONTEST

Will Be Waged Between the Lymansville Strikers and Employers.

PROVIDENCE, Feb. 7 .- Some of the strikers at the Lymansville mills have been patrolling the mill district to prevent any new men from securing work, and every stranger in the neighborhood has been stopped and sharply questioned. As yet there has been no trouble, but the strikers say that they will not allow others to replace them under any circumstances. From present appearances there will be a long struggle between the strikers and their former employers.

The chairman of the Textile Workers' union, Richard McGuy, who conducted the strike at Olneyville, asserts that the order issued at the Lymansville mills that each weaver will be required to tend two looms is but the first blow on the part of the manufacturers, and that a reduction of wages will follow. The strikers number about 450, and are strong in their denunciation of the new system, and unite in refusing to go back under these conditions. The mill people have sent out calls for weavers, and say they are ready to

WEST QUINCY HOSE HOUSE.

A Remonstrance Against the New Site Proposed -Unfit Lot. Editors of the Daily Ledger

of the patent is never considered in view of a quick endeavor to get an allowance and obtain the fee then due. THE PRESS CLAIMS COMPANY, John Wedderburn, General Manager, 618 F street, N W., Washington, D. C., representing a large number of important daily and weekly papers, as well as general periodicals of the country, was instituted to protect its patrons from the uusafe methods heretofore employed in this line of business. The said The lot of land at West Quincy for which an appropriation of $1,500 was asked at the meeting of the Council last Monday evening, as a site for the new hose bouse, is not thought very much of by many of the citizens. The complaint is that the lot is small and then the land is very low and cannot help being very damp even in rejected cases. It is also prepared to enter the dryest of weather. The lot was originate competition with any firm in securing ally purchased by the Foresters, who in tended to erect a large building there with stores on the first floor. This was abandoned, however, as the lot was too small, and because of its dampness. The Foresters have had the land on their hands some time, and if the talk heard is correct are only too willing that the city should have it.

If the new hose house is to be located up that way, the lot on the corner of Copeland and Willard streets would be a much better lot, not only because of its location, but it is on high land and the city would be sure of having a dry cellar which could be used as a lockup, a thing that is needed in this section of the city.

Certainly the city does not want a hose house located on a lot of land where there is almost sure to be water in the cellar. as it would be very apt to corrode the brass work on the apparatus. West Quincy needs a new building, and it should be located in the proper place, and the city should not be obliged to purchase the first piece of land that is offered simply because someone wants to sell it.

The proper way would be to call a meetng of the business men of the ward, that s, property owners, and be guided somewhat by what they say, rather than by a few poll tax payers. It is the former and not the latter whose property is to be protected.

The Days That Are No More.

- Oh! to have lived when earth was young, And everything was charming, When bears and tigers were like lambs, And snakes were not alarming!
- When every day the sun shone out.
  The whole world went a-Maying.
- And lovely maids on every hand Through forests dense were straying! Oh! to have known the peerless knights
- Who went out dragon killing,
  And who to succor innocence
  Distressed were more than willing!
- With gold were always glist'ning! Oh! to have seen the fairies come To every baby's christ'ning.
- A magic carpet sitting, And in the twinkling of an eye From land to land go flitting! Just to have once a giant seen, Though at a civil distance, And to a princess in distress Have offered some assistance.
- Oh! to have had the lamps, the rings That friendly genii granted! Oh! to have met the fawns and swans
- Which always were enchanted Oh! to have lived when beggar men
- Great kingdoms could inherit, When princesses could marry churls, And wishing was a merit!
- When peasant lads and monarchs' sons Were equally undaunted, When every tree and rock and stream Was by some fairy haunted.

MAYOR HODGES in his inaugural address recommended a board of public works in place of one commissioner as at present. Boston has a board but it is not entirely satisfactory, as a Boston representative to the Legislature introduced a bill this week abolishing the board of commissioners and establishing departments of public works, each to have a superintendent and deputy. All the powers now vested in the commissioners are conferred upon the departments of public works, and superintendents of departments shall receive annual salaries not exceeding $3000, and deputy superintendents not exceeding $2500.

BAY STATE LEGISLATURE.

No More New Business Can Now Be Introduced-Flood of Petitions.

Boston, Feb. 8 .- Yesterday was the last day for the introduction of new business in the legislature, and a mass of matter was poured in. The two branches intend now to shut out any but the most necessary business which may be offered subsequently. A movement is on foot to have both branches meet at 4 p. m., so as to give the greater part of the day to committee hearings.

In the house a bill was introduced requiring telephone companies to furnish at least one public telephone free in each town through which their lines pass, and giving to selectmen the right to revoke all rights of telephone companies to maintain lines in public ways, if the company fail to comply with any lawful order of the selectmen. Chairman Perkins of the state highway commission recommended a change in the law by which the state roads shall be permanently under the control of the state commission after they are finished.

Among the petitions presented in the senate were the following: For legisla-tion authorizing the abatement of taxes on personal property assessed to executors, administrators and trustees, under section 44, chapter 11, public statutes; for the establishment of the district court of western Worcester, to be held in the towns of Spencer, North Brookfield and Warren; for the establishment of the first district court of western Worcester; that no street railway operated by electric power shall be constructed across the tracks of any steam ... 'It will ocorisent of the railroad commissioners, or of some other disinterested board; against the proposed reconstruction of the front part of the state house.

An order was offered that the railroad commissioners be requested to investigate the rates of passenger fares on suburban trains to points within 12 miles of Boston and report to the legislature how such fares compare with rates to other points on railroads in this state. Bills were introduced, to increase the number of associate justices of the superior court to 17 instead of 15 as now pro vided by law; placing the control of the courthouse in the hands of the justices of the supreme judicial court, who may appoint a custodian; to improve the jury service of the commonwealth and to establish commissioners for the selection of ment of three persons to be jury service

FOR INVENTIONS.

Equal with the interest of those having claims against the government is that of INVENTORS, who often lose the benefit of valuable inventions because of the incompétency or inattention of the attorneys employed to obtain their patents. Too much care cannot be exercised in employing competent and reliable solicitors to procure patents, for the value of a patent depends greatly, if not entirely, upon the care and skill of the attorney.

With the view of protecting inventors from worthless or careless attorneys, and of seeing that inventors are well protected by valid patents, we have retained counsel expert in patent practice, and therefore are prepared to Obtain Patents in the United States and all Foreign Countries, Conduct Interferences, Make Special Examinations, Prosecute Rejected Cases, Register Trade-Marks and Copyrights, Render Opinions as to

Scope and Validity of Patents, Prosecute and Defend Infringement Suits, Etc., Etc. If you have an invention on hand send a sketch or photograph thereof, together with a brief description of the important features, and you will be at once advised as to the best course to pursue. On Sept. 29, 1862, it was learned that the Alabama was off the Azores, destroying United States whalers, and the Kearsarge put off in search of her, but found the bird had flown. She returned to keep an eye on the Sumter, her watch being ended by the sale of the steamer by the Confederates.

It was not until June 14, 1864, two years after her original search, that the Kear-sarge caught up with the Alabama, which was found in the harbor of Cherbourg, France. The Kearsarge was under com mand of Captain Winslow when the Kearsarge and Alabama battled. The ships were pretty evenly matched in size, the Kearsarge being 1031 tons and the Alabama 1016 tons by the old system of measurement.

Kearsarge the Best Boat.

The Kearsarge had a little the advantage of speed and had a crew of 163 all told, while the Alabama carried 149 men. The Kearsarge's armament consisted of four 82-pounders, two 11-inch Dahlgren pivot guns and one 30-pound rifle, or seven guns, with a total weight of projectiles of

Editorial Comment.

THAT IS a new idea which the Brockton aldermen have adopted and it will be watched with interest by taxpayers. An order has been passed to organize a board of equal taxation, including the mayor, president of the common council, three aldermen and four councilmen, who shall hold public hearings on all matters relating to taxable property and report recommendations to the board of assessors in cases brought to its attention.

THE REDUCTION of $70,000 by the Mayor and City Council of Boston in the estimates for the school department of the city, means much to Quincy and other small cities which have been unable to retain their good teachers. Extravagance in Boston schools causes extravagance in other cities to make an attempt to keep up in the race, Quincy has found the odds too great, and the fact is that our city has been a training school for many of Boston's committees Spend a Day In Considering Various Interesting Hearings. Boston, Feb. 9.—The house and senate met at 12 o'clock today, and, beginning Monday, both branches will get right down to business. It is reported that on Monday the greater part of the day will be given to committee hearings, and that ooth branches will not meet until late in the afternoon. This will prolong the sessions well into the evening.

That somewhat exploded issue, the abolition of the council, and a good diversity of other bills, were introduced by many legislators yesterday. Perhaps the afternoon with Mrs. W. A. Winslow on most startling proposition heard in any one of the committee rooms was that from Mr. Legate to submit the decisions of the supreme court to popular vote for endorsement. The hearing before the committee on taxation brought out the fact that by laying a tax on the $42,000,000 The South African Kaffir choir will give in shares of stock held by the Bell Telephone company in other telephone companies there would be an income to the state of $300,000.

The committee on constitutional amendments continued their hearing on the referendum question. Henry R. Legate, representing the People's party, was of the opinion that the referendum without the initiative would prove harmful in its effects. He believed that the referendum with the initiative would prevent the deplorable spectacle of a governor stepping from the executive chair into the service of a corporation. With the initiative the law would be safe, for t would forever remain in the hands of

The labor committee heard John M. Berry in support of his petition that the chief of the bureau of statistics of labor be required to prepare a plan for co-operative production of goods and for their distribution, both in the fields of agriculture and manufactures, under the auspices of the senate. Representative Melaven supported his bill to amend the law to prevent the intimidation of laborers. He said that after labor troubles in an establishment have been settled and the men have returned to work, some of them are com pelled by their bosses to withdraw from their labor unions under penalty of losing this sort which he aims to prevent.

Representative Bliss appeared before he committee on taxation in advocacy of a bill proposing to tax railroad corpora tions for the number of miles of track which they operate within the limits of the commonwealth, instead of on the number of miles of roadbed upon which taxation is at present based. The proposed legislation was opposed by the Boston and Albany and Boston and Maine railroads. The Western Union Telegraph company also appeared in remonstrance to the proposed amendments.

Three Men Drank Aconite, Thinking It Was Whisky.

ELIZABETH, N. J., Feb. 9.-P. H. Tracy, aged 55, of Canaan, Conn., visited friends here yesterday. He and Fred Wood called on M. B. Oakley. Oakley invited his friends to have a drink. He went to a closet for a bottle of whisky, but placed his hands on a bottle of aconite instead. Each of the men filled out a good drink and swallowed it. The burning sensation caused them alarm and they hurried to a drug store a block away. Just as they reached the store, Tracy fell to the floor dead. The doctors are working on the other two, in what seems to be a vain endeavor to save their lives. Tracy was the head of the Canaan Linen company of Canaan and was a leading citizen.

CAUSE FOR MOURNING.

The Chinese Minister at Washington Weeps and Wails Over a Gas Bill.

The Chinese legation has always been an object of curiosity in Washington and the mysterious goings on in the famous old Stewart castle, which the Ce lestials used to inhabit, were a never failing source of wonder and speculation. Now that the legation has a magnificent triple house for its home out on the heights the interest in the inhabitants is still further increased. The Chinese minister is new to Washington, and his ig norance of some of its ways was th cause of a very peculiar complication the

The monthly bills of the Washington Gas Light company are printed on paper of a peculiarly dirty yellow tint, which happens to be the exact hue of the Chinese emblems of mourning. The long strips are left regularly at the doors of BROCKTON, Mass., Feb. 9.—An order was all houses in the city and at the Chinese legation among the rest. The other day one was left for the first time at the new home of the legation, which is filled with new Chinese servants. The gas bill strip was left in the vestibule, and being carhold public hearings and make recom. fected him. It was evidently intended. he thought, as a notification of some body's death, and as it was left at the legation door it doubtless indicated the cial life.

The minister at once gave orders to close the house. The usual instruments of mourning were brought out, the shutters were drawn, and passersby for the remainder of the evening were regaled with a combination of curious noises such as the Chinese only know how to utter when engaged in bewailing the dead, and the minister retired with the satisfaction of knowing that he had per-

This included the loss from all vessels at Apia. The disaster occurred March 15, 1889, and three German ships also were lost. On Feb. 18, 1883, the Ashuelot went ashore on a rock off the coast of China and 11 men were lost. It is expected that the loss of the Kear sarge will result in the placing of a light on Roncador bank, a result the United States navy department has earnestly sought to bring about for several years but without result, owing to the wish of this government that other nations bear a share in the expense.

A LONE ROBBER

Takes a Money Box From an Express Train and Makes His Escape.

CARSON, Nev., Feb. 10.-About 7 o'clock last evening, when the Virginia and Truckee mail train was a mile out of town, the express car was smashed in, and the box containg money to pay wages to section hands along the road was demanded of Jack Page, Wells, Fargo & Co.'s express messenger, at the muzzle of a shot

The train moved slowly going out of when it was nearing the outskirts, get between the mail and express cars. When about a mile out of town the rear door of the express car was suddenly smashed in and a man with a shotgun demanded the tin box of money. The robber then pulled the bell cord, giving the engineer the signal to stop the train, which was done. After securing the box the robber jumped from the train and started toward the town. The box did not contain much

Demand For Goods.

NEW YORK, Feb. 10.-R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade says: Improvement in business still appears in many directions, but it seems to be in part balanced by loss in others. The WOLLASTON-Ross' news stand and gradual gain which began some time ago, and was strengthened a little by the success of the treasury loan, has scarcely ATLANTIC — Brancheid's News Agency answered expectations. Doubtless the uncertainty remains with the tariff bill vet in the senate, and currency measures of importance pending in the house has some hindering influence, but there is still seen an increase in the demand for many kinds of goods, because of the exhaustion of stock in the hands of dealers by a consumption which, though less than usual, is nevertheless greater than in any other country.

Crop reports were expected to cause a great advance in wheat, but the price has dropped to 63 1-8 cents cash, the lowest point ever known in this market, and both here and at Chicago May wheat has gone lower than ever. Hog products and coffee were substantially unchanged. Cotton rose 1-16 in spite of visible stocks exceeding half the world's consumption for a year, and a decrease of 20 per cent northern spinners. Speculative forces on either side, rather than the facts of supply and demand, govern at present.

Decline In Exchanges. The volume of domestic trade does not materially increase, exchanges indicating a decline compared with last year of 19.5 per cent elsewhere, and 34.9 per cent at New York.

The decrease in shipments of boots and shoes from Boston for the week was only 14 per cent, but trading runs so largely to ow-priced goods that in value the derease in business is greater.

Textile manufactures are gaining a little. #### DROPPED DEAD.

Representative George W. Houk of Ohio Dies at the House of a Friend.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.-Representative George W. Houk of Dayton, O., died suddenly, yesterday afternoon, of heart disease. He was apparently a man of robust condition and the news of his death came as an unexpected shock. He had attended to his congressional duties during the day, and was to all appearances in the full vigor of health.

Mr. Houk made a social call on Mrs. A Reynolds and her sister at 127 Connecticut avenue, and at 4:30 o'clock went to the window in the parlor and looked out. At compared with last year in takings of the window he stooped as if to pick up something from the carpet, and then fell forward on his face. Medical aid was summoned, but it was found that Mr. Houk's death was instantaneous.

Mr. Houk was born in Cumberland county, Pa., in 1825, but has lived in Ohio since two years of age. He was a lawyer and has been in politics since 1852, when he was elected to the Ohio legislature. He was elected to the Fifty-first and Fifty-second congresses as a Dem-

During the performances vesterday afternoon and evening in the Music hall the girl walked down the aisle, over the footlights and went behind the wings. Three different times the police had to carry her home, when her parents ordered her removal to the police station. When she arrived there she acted queerly and said she was going to marry one of the performers, Berby Norman, and had engaged a number of seats so that her friends could witness the cerenony. In her satchel she carried a evolver. She said she had been staying with Norman at the Anderson House. Her father thinks that perhaps she was drugged. She will be examined by physicians. ### FULFORD SURPRISED

When He Heard of Charges Made by tember last, when the actress returned dying from the United States. She the Pixleys.

NEW YORK, Feb. 12 .- Robert Fulford, husband of Annie Pixley, "The Child of the Sierras," who died in London on Oct. 8 last, under, it is claimed, mysterious circumstances, was a passenger on the American line steamship New York, which arrived here yesterday. Mr. Fulford was accompanied by his sister, Mrs. William Fraser, and by Annie Joyce, the late Miss Pixley's maid, who is said to have administered certain powders to her, thus being instrumental in causing her death, in order that Mr. Fulford might obtain possession of her estate, valued at from $300,000 to $400,000. Upon the arrival of the New York at quarantine, Mr. Fulford was acquainted with the serious charges which have been made against him by the Pixley family, as published during the past week, as to the circumstances surrounding the death of his wife and the alleged forgeries in connection with the transfer of deeds and mortgages belonging to his wife's estate. Mr. Fulford was considerably surprised and shocked when he learned the serious nuch on the subject until I have become stories circulated. "I can say now, however," continued Mr. Fulford, "that it is the most absurd rubbish. My wife died despite the attendance of two of the most skilled physicians in England. The course of the Pix-ley family is no doubt due to impatience on their part because I have not hurried over here and turned over to them Annie's

"Mrs. Pixley has got me into a nice little scrape by her ill-advised talking, and it's a poor way to set about obtaining | cola. what she alleges is due her. Of course I shall continue to look out for my motherin-law, but I doubt if I will contribute anything more for the half-brothers of my wife to sport with on Broadway. They are old enough and big enough to earn a living for themselves. Certainly I'm going to look into what they have said against me, and am not going to furnish them with the weapons to fight me with. There has really never been too much feeling between Annie's family and my-

The charges you mention as those that have been circulated are simply preposterous, and so far as I am concerned I court the fullest inquiry into the death of Miss Pixley so far as my attendance of her during her last illness is concerned, or

On the part of the family, their attorney, R. J. Haire, is vigorously investigat-ing the death of Miss Pixley, with a view of securing the rights of his clients to share of the estate of the actress, more than attempting to prove that Miss Pixley's death was due to her husband's desire to make away with her. Colonel Haire announces that he has positive evidence to prove that Miss Pixley left a will providing for her family, and witnesses who will testify as to the harsh treatment of his wife by Fulford. Forgeries in the transfer of deeds are also broadly hinted at. The case, which | time. will come up in Philadelphia, promises to be a sensational one. The estate, among other things, includes a $65,000 mortgage schoolhouse near the Flume House, New on the Park theater in Philadelphia.

whispered to his assistant to keep quiet but the latter, who weighs about 200 pounds, rushed at Father Hill and knocked him down the altar steps. Father McDonald then picked up the chalice, and Father Hill attempted to take it from him. The former dealt him a blow under the left ear which knocked him down. Several men in the front pews then jumped over the chancel rail and prevented Father McDonald from committing further violence.

He was taken to the rectory opposite the church and confined in his apartments. Father Hill was also taken to the rectory and a physician called to attend him. # PATENTS

FOR INVENTIONS.

Equal with the interest of those having claims against the government is that of INVENTORS, who often lose the benefit of valuable inventions because of the incompetency or inattention of the attorneys employed to obtain their patents. Too much care cannot be exercised in employing competent and reliable solicitors to procure patents, for the value of a patent depends greatly, if not entirely, upon the care and skill of the attorney.

With the view of protecting inventors from worthless or careless attorneys, and of seeing that inventions are well protected by valid patents, we have reday in the Rue de Reuilly. Princess Colonna and Her Childres Arrive From Europe.

Effect Upon Them.

NEW YORK, Feb. 12.-All doubts as to the whereabouts of Princess Colonna, stepdaughter of John W. Mackay, the California millionaire, were set at rest by her appearance in this city yesterday. She was a passenger on the American liner New York.

Ever since the French courts granted Prince Colonna permission to see their three children twice a week, the princess found her position to be almost unbearable. She at last determined to place her Chas. H. Johnson's, Washington street, Chas. H. Fire In the Colts' Arms Company's Shop Causes $150,000 Loss,

HARTFORD, Feb. 12.-Fire broke out in the Colts' Patent Fire Arms company's shop at 1:50 yesterday afternoon and in two hours destroyed about $150,000 worth of property.

The burned building is a stone and brick structure, 50 by 500 feet, and three stories high, with an immense attic. It was the connecting section between the east and west armories, and was mainly used as a storehouse by the Colts' com-

The origin of the fire is uncertain. It was discovered by Tom Dillon, a watchman, who heard a roaring which he thought was caused by the engine. Finding the conflagration under full headway on the second floor of the wing, he rung the alarm, which Chief Eaton followed with a general alarm 10 minutes later. The whole eastern end of the burning section was soon a mass of fire. Floor after floor fell through, precipitating 3 new printing presses, all boxed, ready for shipment today, into the cellar. The building and stock of the Colts' com pany are insured through the agency of W. Beardsley for $200,000. He estimates the total loss to the company at $80,000, half of which is on the building.

An Anarchist Throws a Bomb Into a Paris Restaurant.

HIS CAPTURE SOON EFFECTED.

Received a Sabre Wound In a Fight With Police.

PARIS, Feb. 13.-A young man, who acted from motives of revenge, exploded a bomb last evening in a cafe beneath the Terminus hotel. The cafe was full of people at the time. A man who had dined in the cafe was seen to raise his arm and throw something into the middle of the room. A terrific explosion followed and the occupants of the room were paralyzed with terror. The air was filled with smoke, and lying on the floor were numbers of persons, wounded, moaning and bleeding.

The bomb had landed upon a table around which a party had been sitting, and this article of furniture had been reduced to splinters. The persons grouped at this table suffered the most. The injured numbered 15. Nearly all of them were wounded in the legs.

In the meantime the man responsible for the cowardly act had not been allowed to escape. As soon as he had thrown the bomb he ran out of the place and darted away. The alarm was given and chase til the ice was nearly melted, and rain was given to the fleeing figure. A number of policemen joined in. The fugitive drew a revolver when he saw that his purstruck was a policeman.

The man was captured when 150 yards from the cafe. He proved to be an undersized, pale-faced and beardless man of 30 years. His name is Leon Breton. He had been employed in the cafe as a waiter, but had been dismissed for misconduct. The news of the explosion caused sensation through the city. The minister of the interior visited the scene as soon as he was notified of the occurrence. All the persons injured are Parisians. Breton, before the explosion, had been sitting on the outside of the cafe, and had partaken of refreshments. As he was leaving the place he threw the bomb. The explosion shivered the plate glass front of the place, destroyed one marble-top table and overturned others, and smashed glassware and plates, their fragments flying in all directions. An Exciting Battle.

Breton, on leaving the cafe, rushed coward the Rue de Rome. An omnibus was passing the cafe as Breton ran out. A policeman on the top of the omnibus Resolved, That the house of representatives saw Breton. He jumped to the ground of the United States of America regards with and captured him a few yards up the Rue de Rome. Breton turned on the policeman, revolver in hand, and fired a shot at him. The policeman grabbed him, and both fell. While on the ground Breton fired another shot and struck a woman who was passing. The woman fell to the

In the meantime a crowd had collected, attracted by the shots. The policeman who had grabbed Breton had be wounded by the first shot and was unable to hold on to his prisoner, and the latter, still brandishing his revolver, regained his feet and was likely to do further mis-

The people were in a furious mood. The sight of the revolver restrained them at first, but finally, headed by another policeman, they rushed forward to secure him. Breton again attempted to use his revolver, but the policeman cut him over the face with his sabre, staggering him. He was then arrested. The mob again demanded that he be lynched, and they would have probably carried out their intentions had not a strong force of police arrived. The prisoner was then escorted to the office of Commissary Aragon.

A Deadly Missile. The inquiry before the commissary showed that the bomb was constructed in the form of a sardine box, and contained chlorate powder and pieces of lead of the size of cherries. Breton admitted to the police that he was an anarchist.

Breton told the doctor who dressed the wound which he received from the policeman's saber, that his main object was to avenge Vaillant. His hatred of the proprietor of the cafe was but a minor consideration. He said there were others who would follow his example. His object, and the object of his associates, was to destroy the bourgeoisie society. Breton speaks English and French fluently. He declines to reveal his identity. The prisoner later denied that he was the author of the crime, adding, insolently: "I am an anarchist. The sooner the bourgeoisie burst up the better, but I know nothing. I did not enter the Paul Jones Charged a Penny a Head to cafe. You can suppose that I arrived here from Pekin or from Marseilles, as

NOTICE TO INVENTORS. THERE Was never a time in the history of our country when the demand for inventions and improvements in the arts and sciences generally was so great as now. The conveniences of mankind in the factory and work-shop, the household, on the farm, and in official life, require continual accessions to the appurtances and implements of each in order to save labor, time and expense. The political change in the administration of government does not affect the progress of the American inventor, who, being on the alert and ready to perceive the existing de ficiences, does not permit the affairs of government to deter him from quickly conceiv-ing the remedy to overcome existing dis-crepancies. Too great care cannot be exercrepancies. Too great care cannot be exercised in choosing a competent and skilful attorney to prepare and prosecute an application for patent. Valuable interests have been lost and destroyed in innumerable instances by the employment of incompetent counsel, and especially is this advice applicable to those who adopt the "No patent, no pay" system. Inventors who intrust their business to this class of attorneys do so at imminent risk, as the breadth and strength imminent risk, as the breadth and strength of the patent is never considered in view of a of the patent is never considered in view of a quick endeavor to get an allowance and obtain the fee then due. #### WINTER STILL WITH US

Notes of the Big Snow Storm of Yester day in This Vicinity.

Toughest of the season. Some have not yet got dug out.

Drifts everywhere except on the north side of houses, but they got the wind. The stores in the Durgin & Merrill and the Greenleaf blocks had their sidewalks swept clean by the wind. Snow was piled high on the side walk in front of the Adams building but the tenants cleared a wide walk with com mendable promptness. Many were surprised to see the DAILY LEDGER at West Quincy and other out lying wards practically on time. The newsboys also struggled heroically and did their best to reach all their customers.

Only 14 inches of snow is reported to have fallen. We were quite sure we saw it deeper somewhere.

It looked this morning as if more snow Fortunately there were no fire alarms Tuesday.

It was hard to tell yesterday who was who. Those who ventured out were pre pared to rough it.

The big electric snow plough left the Square at 7 o'clock Tuesday night for North Weymouth, and as it had to knock down many drifts it did not return to

Quincy until 5.30 this morning. In many places where the sidewalks are drifted the snow plough was unable to go brough and went most anywhere. Many social gatherings to have been 4-4 Cotton, Many social gatherings to have been held Tuesday evening were postponed on ccount of the storm.

The snow is drifted badly near the resi dence of John R. Graham, on Washington street, but is not as high as two years ago. Everybody who has a shovel gets a job

Very little damage was done to the tele phone wires by the storm.

The storm put a stop to what little work there was in the stone quarries.

Tuesday night's Globe said everything in Quincy had stopped except the old town clock. Everybody cried "enough" when the wind died down and it stopped snowing, yet we had a little more snow this morning. The letter carriers had a hard time, but they were about just the same delivering their messages of love, joy and sorrow.

The night patrolmen must have realized that the life of a policeman is not always a The great storm raised havoc with Wol laston streets. Early in the morning they were nearly impassable, all of the grocery stores sending out their men on foot for Horace street was blocked and an electric was stalled at Elm avenue. But few teams attempted to reach Boston over that thoroughfare, M. A. Boynton did not start any of his teams for Boston. All of Wollaston, north of Beale street, was not broken out until this morning, much to the indignation of the citizens. The hills were plowed Tuesday forenoon.

The trains on the Old Colony system were delayed from thirty minutes to two hours, the latter being the time the Cape was behind time. Up to Tuesday evening the trains were not running on schedule time. The Plymouth train due at Wollaston at 6.20 did not arrive until 7.15. The outward afternoon trains were delayed from ten to twenty minutes and were short of cars.

But look out for the water, the snow may go about as quick as it came.

Partial List of Those Present and Their Costumes.

Despite the almost impassa ble condition of the streets, Music hall, Atlantic, was the scene of the long-talked of Valentine masque party Tuesday evening, and it was a most decided success.

The scene in the hall when the march begun, was bright, animated and of course and a roar of laughter was kept up at the all public buildings shall be erected by the antics of some of these beauties. Some of city and not by contract.

Wollaston, Neponset and Dorchester were well represented, and only the storm prevented an unusually large party. As it was a subscription party the dancers were for the most part well acquainted, and at the unmasking a great many surprises were in order. We cannot mention all the attractive costumes, but among the more prominent were the following:

Mr. Spencer Appolonio of Marshfield wore a beautiful costume representing Claudian.

Harry Wilder as a Chinaman was very

Mr. George Height of Neponset took the cake for comic make-up, and created no end of fun in his clown costume of stars

PATENTS

NOTICE TO INVENTORS.

THERE Was never a time in the history of our country when the demand for inventions and improvements in the arts and iences generally was so great as now. The work-shop, the household, on the farm, and in official life, require continual accessions to the appurtances and implements of each in order to save labor, time and expense. The political change in the administration of government does not affect the progress of the American inventor, who, being on the alert and ready to perceive the existing deficiences, does not permit the affairs of government to deter him from quickly conceiving the remedy to overcome existing discrepancies. Too great care cannot be exercised in choosing a competent and skilful cised in choosing a competent and -kilfu attorney to prepare and prosecute an appli ation for patent. Valuable interests ha stances by the employment of incompetent counsel, and especially is this advice applicable to those who adopt the "No patent, no pay" system. Inventors who intrust their business to this class of attorneys do so at the counsel, and especially is this advice applicable to those who adopt the "No patent, no pay" system. Inventors who intrust their business to this class of attorneys do so at the country of the imminent risk, as the breadth and strength of the patent is never considered in view of a of the patent is never considered in view of a quick endeavor to get an allowance and obtain the fee then due. THE PRESS CLAIMS COMPANY, John Wedderburn, General Manager, 618 F street, N W., Washington, D. THEIR DEATH ALMOST CERTAIN.

Probably Crushed by Masses of Rock and Stone.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Feb. 14.-The mining town of Plymouth is in mourning over a terrible accident that occurred in the Gaylord colliery, yesternay. Thirteen men, all citizens of that town, lost their lives while in the discharge of their duties. Their names are:

work. Monday morning a large number of expert miners, carrying safety lamps, entered the mine and began the work of clearing up the old gangways and propping the roof. They had not been at work long until a "squeeze" came, which compelled the men to retrace their steps. Foreman Picton, with twelve picked miners, volunteered to go down the shaft and see what could be done. The descent was made at 10 o'clock Monday night. Picton's object was to get as near as possible to the most dangerous part or where the squeeze was the greatest, in order to stay its progress by beaming the roof with heavy timber. In cases of this kind the men get as near as possible to the cave-in, head to a certain point, thus relieving the pressure on other portions of the mine.

It seems that in this instance the efforts of Picton and his men did not prove a success, as the cave extended far beyond the danger limit, and a much greater distance than where the men expected to be safe if they retreated at the first indica-tion of the heavy fall. This is shown by the vast area of the cave-in.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.-The senate bill making Labor day (the first Monday of September in each year) a legal holiday was reported by Mr. Kyle from the committee on education and labor, and was placed on the calendar.

Mr. Gray resumed his speech in sup-port of the resolution from the committee on foreign relations declaring it unwise and inexpedient to consider further the treaty or project of annexation of the Hawaiian territory; that the provisional gov-ernment should be allowed to pursue its own line of policy, and that foreign intervention in the political affairs of the isl-ands would be regarded as an act un-friendly to the government of the United States. In the course of his remarks Mr. Gray said he very much regretted that the president was unable to undo the outrage, and make reparation for the wrong Co. committed there on Jan. 17, 1893. The resolution was laid aside.
Immediately after the journal had been read and approved in the house, the Hawaiian correspondence was read and referred to the committee on foreign affairs The seigniorage bill was then taken up. Henry has confessed that this is his name. He wrote his name in the note book of Inspector Duchatel, who knew him long ago as an anarchist, but who had lost sight of him for some time past. Inspector Duchatel subsequently ascertained that Henry lived in London for a year, and the police were advised of his rest in Paris. Reports from the detectives, concerning the whereabouts of Henry, were received at the prefecture of police in January. Henry was not at work when these reports were made, but before he went to London he was employed as an errand boy for a firm of fur-Had No Accomplice.

"Henry remarked," said Duchatel, that he alone was responsible for the explosion in the cafe, adding that Vaillant was a child to put nails in his bomb in order to blow up the bourgeoisie. ### THE CITY DEBT OF QUINCY.

An Interesting Summary Compiled by Auditor Hall, Showing When It Matures.

Auditor Hall has prepared an interesting summary which tells the whole story of the city debt. The total indebtedness of the city Jan. 1, 1894, was $339,730 for ordinary city expenses and $714,000 on account of water supply, a grand total of $1,053,730.

The summary shows the percentage of interest on each loan and the years in which the instalments fall due. The lowest rate is 4 per cent. and the highest 6 per cent. There are but few of the latter and they are, with one exception, one

All the ordinary debt, except one instalment of the new High school, will be paid within seven years, in or before 1900. Nearly one-fifth of the total matures this year, and will cancel in full 14 of the 38 loans.

THE SOUTH IS SOLID FOR IT

Free Silver Would Receive No | was based. Support.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15 .- A number of executive communications were laid before the house, including the recommendation that an appropriation be made hospital at Chicago, and suggested that the statue of "Liberty Enlightening the WOLLASTON-Ross' news stand and World" in New York harbor be utilized

Mr. Reed called attention to the fact that Messrs. Quigg and Straus, mem-bers-elect from New York, were present, and, although their credentials had not Chas. H. Johnson's, Washington street, yet been received, there was no question as to their election. He asked unanimous consent that they take the oath of office. No objection being made, the memberselect were sworn in

A letter from Mr. Brawley (Dem., S. C.) was read, stating that his resignation as a member of the house of representatives had been forwarded to the governor of South Carolina Mr. Bland asked that speeches on the seigniorage bill be limited to 20 minutes.

Objection was made to this, and the house went into committee of the whole to con-The entire day was spent in discussing the measure without arriving at any con-

An Interesting Analysis. Representative Tracey of Albany, who is one of the pronounced opponents of free silver in the house, denies emphatically that a free silver bill can pass that body. Mr. Tracey thinks that there is no doubt that the pending Bland bill will be adopted by a fair majority. The vote on the Bland bill, in his opinion, however, will not be an index of what the house will do when confronted with a free silwill do when confronted with a free silver bill. In other words, a number of gentlemen will support the Bland bill who would be unfriendly to any more urgent request of the large bondholders, radical silver legislation.

Mr. Tracey has made an analysis of the states as follows: Alabama 9, Arkansas 6, California 6, Colorado 2, Florida 2, Geor-gia 11, Illinois 7, Indiana 13, Iowa 2, Kansas 8, Kentucky 10, Louisiana 4, Maryland 1, Massachusetts 1, Michigan 6, Minne-sota 3, Mississippi 7, Missouri 12, Montana 1, Nebraska 5, Nevada 1, North Carolina 9, Ohio 8, Pennsylvania 5, South Carolina 6, South Dakota 2, Tennessee 8, l'exas 13, Virginia 10, Washington 2, West Virginia 3, Wisconsin 2, Wyoming 1.

Sure of the Southern Vote. A further analysis of this vote shows that he estimates that the Alabama, Arkansas, Georgia, Kansas, Mississippi, North Carolina, Texas and Virginia delegations will vote solidly for the Bland bill, the other delegations dividing to a greater or fered her his seat)-Oh, no! Keep your less extent. Mr. Tracey believes that if a full house be present when a vote is taken, the measure will receive about 180 votes. He thinks that at least 30 of these votes would be cast against a free coinage bill, which, in his judgment, would render the passage of such a bill an impossi-

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15 .- The sober sec-Analysis of the Prospective Vote on and judgment of both parties to the Behring sea arbitration discloses the fact that the agreement reached by the arbitrators is not entirely satisfactory to either the United States or Great Britain. It appears, however, that the dissatisfac-tion is based rather upon matters of de-tail than upon any objection to the broad principles upon which the arbitration

These matters are now the cause of concern to the two nations, and for months past there has been much correspondence between Secretary Gresham and Ambassadors Bayard and Pauncefote, with a view to their adjustment. One of the flaws which Secretary Gresham is said to have found, is a failure to pro for building approaches to the marine vide penalties for infraction of provisions, and as it would be of little avail to capture pelagic sealing vessels, only to have them turned loose again upon the seal herds as soon as the cases could be brought before the courts, the secretary is trying to have this defect cured.

The United States is able to punish sealers brought before its courts, but the Canadian law is defective and thus an international agreement is desirable. The Canadians also have a cause of complaint. They appear to have dis-covered, at this late date, that a rigid en-forcement of the articles of agreement would destroy their seal fishing industry They have brought great pressure to bear upon the British foreign office, with the result that Mr. Pauncefote is now laboring strenuously to mitigate the mis-fortunes of the Canadians by securing a considerable restriction of the limits o the closed zone around the seal islands within which seals may not be taken by vessels, and a shortening of the closed season, which now extends from May until the last of August.

Our Stars of '94. A paper, having for its subject, "Our Stars of 1894, Kansas and New York," vas read by Mrs. Laura M. Johns of Kansas. The Kansas constitution, she said. was the first to provide for the admission of women to school elections. The Kansas legislature was the first to extend municipal suffrage to women, and thus was Kansas the first of the states to approach nearly to the true republic. The esult of woman's participation in municpal government in Kansas, said Mrs. ohns, may be briefly summed up as folmatter of greater consideration in the election of candidates for office. Men of higher morality have been elected to municipal offices. The woman constitutency has acted as a check upon the evils of partisanism, though it has, at the same time, demonstrated that nothing can be done in elections without organization. Chinese Visiting Cards 1,000 Years Ago. The Chinese, who seem to have known most of our new ideas, used visiting cards 1,000 years ago, but their cards were very large, and not really the prolotypes of our visiting cards, as they were on soft paper and tied with ribbon. Venice seems to have been the first city in Europe to use cards. Some dating from the latter part of the sixteenth century are preserved in a museum there. The German cities followed the Venetian custom in 100 years or so, then London followed suit-actually followed suit, for the first visiting cards in Great Britain were playing cards, or parts of such cards, bearing the name of the bestower on the back. They were first used in England about 1700. We do not know when they were first used in this country, probably not long after their first introduction into British society .- St. Louis Globe Democrat. Infinitesimal Webs.

FOR INVENTIONS.

Equal with the interest of those having claims against the government is that of INVENTORS, who often lose the benefit of valuable inventions because of the incompetency or inattention of the attorneys employed to obtain their patents. Too much care cannot be exercised in employing competent and relible solicitors to procure patents, for the value of a patent depends greatly, if not entirely, upon the care and skill of the attorney.

With the view of protecting inventors from worthless or careless attorneys, and of seeing that inventions are well protected by valid patents, we have retained counsel expert in patent practice, and therefore are prepared to

BLOUNT AND WILLIS

Not Held In High Esteem by the President of Hawaii.

For the Unfortunate Tangle Which Now Exists.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 16. - President for specificatious, dated Jan. 11, was made public in Honolulu just before the sailing of the Alameda. The reply opens by acknowledging receipt of Mr. Willis' letter of Jan. 1, and reviews at length the various statements therein made, and referring to a request for an immediate answer, says:

"I will comply with your request. Before doing so, however, I desire to say in reply to your communication of the 1st inst. that I have made no 'charges against the President of the United States or its representatives.' On the contrary, in order that there might be no misapprehension concerning the matter, I specifically stated to you in my communication of the 27th ultimo that 'I do not claim or intimate that this unfortunate situation has been intentionally created by you or the government which you represent." Mr. Dole expresses gratification at Mr. Willis' assurance that the latter's communication of Dec. 29 was prompted by no improper motive or unfriendly spirit, and says that all communications from the provisional government are written in a friendly spirit. Mr. Dole gives the fol-lowing extract from Mr. Willis' letter: Willis' Question. "Will you point where and when and how the representative of the United States assumed any attitude toward the supporters of the provisional government or that government itself other than the one essentially and designedly expressive of peace? Mr. Dole proceeds to give 28 specifications concerning the words and actions of the United States and its representatives, from which its intentions and attitude toward the provisional government must be inferred.

The specifications cover a wide range. Mr. Dole complains that Mr. Blount's report is distinctly hostile to the provisional government in tone and conclusions. No request of that government for an explanation of the charges therein was made, nor an opportunity to reply thereto, or notice of its contents was given prior to

Mr. Dole also says that during nearly two months' residence in Honolulu Mr. Willis and family declined the customary social courtesies extended to those occupying Mr. Willis' official position on the ground that it was not deemed best under existing circumstances to accept such civilities.

Strain Was Severe. Mr. Dole further states that the apprehension that the United States govern-the bark New Light was stranged on Bogue beach, 12 miles west of here. The crew were saved. The vessel is a total wreck. Dexter says: The sudden departure of Landlord A. L. Caswell of the Tourist hotel has given rise to a number of interesting complications. He leaves an unsettled liquor case, several unpaid bills, and his mail route, taken on a losing contract, without a manager. He is also accused by his mother-in-law of forging her name to a deed of conveyance of the hotel three weeks ago.

Caswell came to Dexter three years ago as a tramp weaver. He boarded in the Tourist hotel, and soon became clerk and bartender, and then married the daughter of the landlady and assumed the management of the hotel. He is thought to be in Canada.

BATH WILL BOOM.

Iron Works Will Not Remove From the Scorched City.

BATH, Me., Feb. 16.-Leading stockholders state positively that the Bath iron works will not remove from the city. A large portion of the capital is located here, outside the Hyde family, and is represented by four directors, M. G. Shaw, Galen C. Moses, William D. Sewall and Charles H. MacLellan. These men are he principal stockholders in the Sagadahoc Real Estate association, which con-trols one-third of Bath and whose princioal source of income is from employes of he iron works.

Their removal would destroy the value of this, as one-half the people depend on the works. The plant and property of the works remaining are very valuable, and the insurance will amply cover the cost of rebuilding. The loss of business will be slight, as not much work was ahead. The rebuilding will tide over the dull

Master Builders Wound Up Business With a Banquet.

NOW, $1.00 and 50 cents. SCHOOLS FOR LEARNING TRADES

Recommended as Being Beneficial to Children.

Boston, Feb. 17.-There were more than 250 delegates and visitors present when the roll was called at the final session of the convention of the National Association of Master Builders at Mechanics building. A discussion of the uniform contract was the principal business of the enoon session, and the entire time up to the hour for luncheon was occupied in its consideration.

Trade schools was a subject of considerable discussion. Resolutions were passed for the appointment of a standing committee to take action towards securing such schools as will enable American children to learn mechanical trades; for making it obligatory upon all affiliated bodies to give graduates from trade schools a thorough training in the chosen trade in case of a proscription by any convention.

Election of Officers. tions was received and accepted, and the following-named officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Noble H. Creager of Baltimore; first vice president, Charles A. Rupp of Buffalo; second vice president, James Mcathe, Detroit; secretary, William H. Sayward of Boston; treasurer, George Tapper of Chicago: directors, one from each association represented in the national convention The next convention will be held in Baltimore in October, 1895.

Captain Creager is 49 years old, and i resident of the Baltimore Builders' exchange. He is the junior member of the firm of Pitcher & Creager of Baltimore, one of the largest brick manufacturing concerns in the southern states. He is a veteran of the war. He is also prominent n local politics in Baltimore.

Last night the delegates of the national sociation were entertained at the rooms of the Master Builders' association on Devonshire street by a "smoke talk." About 300 attended. Dinner was served

At the Vendome last night the wives and lady friends of the members of the tertained the wives of the visiting delegates. From 6:30 to 7:30 p. m. a reception was held, and at 7:30 dinner was spread. After this Miss Julia King read several selections. Miss Alice Wentworth ren-dered solos and a ladies' orchestra furnished music. About 120 ladies attended

No Cause For Alarm.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17 .- Navy department advices from Rio de Janeiro indicate that, except for the outbreak of yellow fever on board the Newark, there is no cause for alarm concerning the American fleet in Brazilian waters. The following dispatch from Admiral Benham was received. It is dated Feb. 16, and directed to Secretary Herbert: "As a precautionary measure against fever, I will send vessels, except flagship, just outside the harbor, without call. Every precaution has been taken. Health of officers and crew is good."

Fresh Discussion Likely. WASHINGTON, Feb. 17 .- President Dole's letter has again started discussion of the Hawaiian question among congressmen. It is possible that it may lead to reopening the entire question in the house. Re presentative Hitt regards the Dole letter as a very forcible presentation of the subject, and thinks it should have been in the hands of members before they were asked to pass on the McCreary resolution.

Gamblers Robbed of $5000. SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 17.—The faro bank of Carroll and Webber was robbed of $5000 by two men. The dealers were about to close the bank when the robbers entered and, bundling up all the money in sight, made their escape. One of the men was subsequently captured.

TRAIN DITCHED.

Express Train Blown Open With Dy namite and Then Looted. Los ANGELEA, Feb. 17 .- A Southern Paeific passenger train was wrecked at Roscoe, near here, by three masked men. The engine and two fruit cars were ditched

The express car was blown open by dynamite and looted. Engineer Thomas and the fireman and the express messenger were badly hurt. The robbers escaped. The wrecked engine went down the bank, 10 feet. Engineer Thomas jumped and ran, but Fireman Masters was pinioned between the cab and the tender and died as he was taken out. Harry Edgar, the express messenger in charge of the Wells-Fargo car, and the only per son in it, gave a version of the affair as "The first thing I knew was a terrible shock, and I at once knew there was a wreck, but, of course, did not know what was the matter. The explosion of a dynamite bomb was the next thing. I heard at the right hand door a noise. I was standing in the center of the car when the bomb was exploded. It blew the door into splinters, and the whole car was soon filled with smoke.

"The robbers then began shooting, warning me in time to open the door quickly. They shoved a rifle in through the door. I obeyed them under the penalty of death. The robbers came in and got all they could. I opened the Wells-Fargo box and they took what little silver there was. I saw only two men." Besides Arthur Masters, the fireman, an unknown tramp, who was stealing a ride, was killed. The Wells-Fargo express car was rifled of its entire contents. WORTHY THE HONOR.

Talk of Preserving the Kearsarge as an Historical Relic.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17 .- In a hope that the Kearsarge may yet be put together strong enough to be retained as a historical relic in the shape of a schoolship, Assistant Secretary of the Navy McAdoo yesterday had a conference with Captain Merritt, the head of the wrecking company. The captain signified a willingness to undertake the salvage of the Kearsarge on reasonable terms. He says he has worked vessels out of all known difficulties, has even picked them out of the sea, and that the Kearsarge must be in a bad plight indeed, if he cannot get her off

The navy department is disposed to act with all due speed in the matter, because of a fear that the Kearsarge may be ooted by some of the lawless natives of New Providence before the salvers can

Lieutenant J. A. Smith of the navy has presented a plan for rescuing the guns and armament of the Kearsarge. The plan was submitted to Lieutenant Smith by E. M. Stoddard, who commanded the guns of the Kearsarge during her battle with the Alabama. Mr. Stoddard is now in the wrecking business at Norfolk. He estimated that an expedition could be fitted out to rescue the Kearsarge from the West Indian waters for about $12,000. Mr. Stoddard thinks the battery and a portion of the hull could be recovered. Acting on this letter, Mr. Blair, vester-

A ROW OVER MONEY

Catholic University. MONTREAL, Feb. 17 .- The revolt of the professors and students of the Montreal branch of Lavalle university, the greatest of French Roman Catholic educational institutions in the Dominion, over the management of its affairs, promises to result in the biggest scandal for a long time. At the bottom of the trouble is the mysterious disappearance of funds, which, while handled by the bishops, are said rightly to belong to the university. An annual amount of $6000, derived from masses for the dead in the provinces, decreed by the pope to go to Lavalle to assist in paying running expenses, has not been paid over, it is alleged, by the bishops who collected the money. About $25,000 of the Jesuits and state fund, also intended for Lavalle, has never reached, it is alleged, the financial syndicate of the university, which is composed of clergy and laymen. All of these profess ignorance as to where the money has gone.

Abbe Praule, vice chancellor of the university, is going to Europe, and $1500 was granted him, which it was stated came out of the university funds. This has also added fuel to the flame of discord. The abbe denies the statement as to the origin of the money and interest. Laymen have expressed a determination to demand an investigation.

A Week of Record Breaking In the Business World.

WHEAT FURNISHED A SURPRISE.

In Railroad Stocks.

NEW YORK, Feb. 17 .- R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade says:

This has been a week of record breaking. In wheat, in silver, in some forms of iron and steel, in cotton and in wellknown cotton and woolen goods, the lowest prices ever known have been made. and it is gratifying that failures of importance have not resulted.

The great fall in wheat had a perceptible influence upon the tone of business generally, and there was less confidence n Wall street, less improvement in manafactures and a greater decrease in the olume of payments through clearing ouse, which were 25.4 per cent less than year ago, outside New York, and 43.7 per cent less than a year ago, here, notwithstanding unusual transactions in

Wheat at 60 3-8 cents is not only lowe by 41-4 cents than it was for a single day last year, but lower by 13 1-4 cents than it had ever been in the previous 77 years. A visible supply of over 79,000,000 bushels Feb. 10, with sales and receipts from farms continuing large, has completely destroyed faith in the official report of the yield last year, and causes enormous liq-

Corn and other products fluctuated but little, though receipts of corn were large. The Cotton Market.

Cotton declined 1-8 cent, with increasing distrust of short crops and limits. The receipts from plantations this week have been larger than a year ago, and at no time small enough to support the idea that the crop of 1893 was but 6,600,000 bales, which would mean that less than 300,000 bales have yet to come into sigh in over six months. Shipments of boots and shoes from th east are 19 per cent less than a year ago with cheaper grades predominating in orders and in manufacture, and not many factories fully employed. Textile industries do not seem to hav gained within the past week, for as many works have closed as have resumed work and in woolen and cotton manufacture rather more.

There has been a sharp break in print cloths to 2 3-4 cents; some of the best known cottons have been put at the lowest prices ever made, and there is more talk of general closing of mills. Trade In Woolens.

Some woolen mills of large importance have stopped, one because reduction of wages was resisted, and in textile works such reductions have been more numer ous and larger than in any previous week. The demand for woolen goods does not improve, and sales of wool decreased sharply after the brisk activity two day, presented a bill for a Kearsarge weeks ago, being only 4,114,591 pounds for the week, against 5,826,300 last year. Though some grades are scarce and prices relatively higher west than here, the markets do not advance. Stocks have been weaker with the fall in wheat, those of granger roads declining over $1 a share in most cases, and the New York Central also, in spite of the fact that trunk lines and granger roads showed much less decrease in earnings than in other recent seeks. The weakness in railroad stocks is in part due to violen fluctuations in trust stocks and the break in sugar, which fell $5 a share, with heavy transactions. Failures for the week have been 323 in the United States, against 197 last year, and 55 in Canada, against 36 last year. Though several were of some magnitude the aggregate of liabilities was apparently below the weekly average for January. With nearly complete returns for Janu ary, the aggregate of liabilities in 2802 failures is $30,946,497, of which $11,631,305 was of manufacturing and $18,193,476 of gains, I bale of square trading concerns.

Editorial Comment.

SAMUEL HOAR, counsel for the Boston & Albany Railroad company, in appearing before the committee on railroads at the State House on Tuesday, Feb. 13th, made an announcement which will be interesting news to suburban passengers. He said that on and after Feb. 15, the company will sell 50-ride tickets at the same rate as the 100-ride tickets are now sold.

Several times we have been on the point 15 cts. lb. at the same rates as are charged at the present time by the Old Colony for 100rides-beg pardon, New York, New Haven & Hartford R. R .. - to the attention of the patrons of that road and the directors of the same. And now that the Boston & Albany has taken the initiative in this matter on its own road, we deem it a propitious time to urge the N. Y., N. H. & H. R. R. to follow in their steps.

We do not know how many books are issued to the various station within the 10mile limit from Boston, but a great many. Probably 55 or 60 per cent. of the whole passenger travel is within that limit, so that the road receives in advance a large sum of money, before any service for the same is performed, and the interest thereon at five per cent. must amount to a large aggregate.

In many cases it is a burden to pay out $11.50 or $12.00 for a 100-ride ticket. There are occasions when at the expiration of an old 100-ride book the traveller is not prepared to immediately purchase another, and is obliged to use ten-trip tickets, but he could purchase a 50-ride book were one to be obtained, and the road would be

We believe that if the N. Y., N. H. & H. R. R. will issue 50-ride books at the 100ride rates, they will find their receipts could one be obtained for a reasonable sum, do not feel like keeping $20 or so locked up in tickets, as they are now obliged to, if they purchase two books. With the 50ride book obtainable we believe that three of them will be sold where one 100-ride book is now sold. We understand that a petition will be immediately circulated among the patrons of the road calling the attention of the management to this matter.

BAY STATE LEGISLATURE.

The Abelition of Fast Day-Law of Attachment-Rap at Tax Dodgers. Boston, Feb. 17 .- When the bill to abolish Fast day and make April 19 a legal holiday came up in the house Mr. Kneil presented his substitute bill for the establishing of Puritans' day. Mr. Malone raised the point of order that the substitute bill could not be entertained because not within the scope of the original petition and bill. speaker ruled that the point of order was well taken, that the substitute could not be considered.

Mr. Hayes moved to amend the bill by striking out sections 1, 2 and 3, which would leave Fast day in existence, but appoint April 19 a legal holiday. After considerable debate Mr. Hayes' amendnent was lost by a vote of 40 to 99. The bill was then passed to be engrossed. Mr. Hayes gave notice of a motion to re-

The committee on labor reported a bill providing that 10 hours' work, to be performed within 11 consecutive hours, shall onstitute a day's labor in the operation of all the railroads in the commonwealth, or incorporated under its laws, provided that in cases of actual necessity, accident or necessary delay in running trains, or in cases where it requires more than 11 nours for the average round trip, employes may work more than 10 hours for extra compensation.

A petition was presented, accompanied by a bill, providing that no attachment of property, real or personal, shall be made until the cause of the action in which the attachment would be made shall be heard in court and final judgment shall be rendered.

A petition was received for legislation to facilitate the transaction of express business, and providing among other things that the rates charged an express carrier by any railroad corporation shall not be more than half the rates of such corporation for first class freight between the same points.

The committee on taxation reported a bill providing that the day for the assess ment of annual taxes in the common wealth shall be changed from May 1 to April 1, and if the bill is passed, the exodus from the city of the wealthy ones who prefer to be assessed where rates are more lenient will have to begin at a rather unseasonable time.

The house received a petition asking for legislation to make owners and lessees of property liable for gaming or other illegal acts carried on on their property; a petition asking for a law to provide for the reimbursement of all persons held in jail charged with crime when no indictment The committee on cities reported a bill amending Everett's city charter and making the financial year begin Jan. 1 instead of Feb. 1. The committee on harbors and public lands reported a bill authorizing a bridge across Chelsea creek between Boston and

WRECKAGE IDENTIFIED.

Schooner Edwin I. Morrison Sunk In Deep Water Off Race Point. PROVINCETOWN, Mass., Feb. 17.-The schooner Edwin I. Morrison has been fully identified by Captain R. M. Lavender. A brass plate from the cabin chilway was picked up in Herring cove yesterday afternoon, with the letters "E. I. M." engraved on it. W. P. Hudson, a former mate of the vessel, now residing here, identified the engraving as his work. Captain Lavender was master of the Morrison for nine years, with Hudson as mate much of the time. Both men say without doubt the wreckage which has come ashore is from that men's Relief association will be held this vessel. This is the vessel that was seen ounding along the beach the morning of the 13th inst., and has sunk in the deer water off Race Point. The heavy northwest gale prevailing here has brought shore the wreckage from her. There no chance that any one was saved of her crew. She was commanded by Captain John H. Smith of Dorchester, Mass., carried a crew of eight men all told, and left Rockport for New York on the morning of the 12th inst.

Cambridge Mourns Her Loss. CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Feb. 17. - Both branches of the city government met in special session last night to take action on he death of General Hincks. Resolutions were passed and it was voted to attend the funeral in a body. It was resolved that the city council of Cambridge pay its tribute of profound respect and regard to the memory of the gallant soldier and unselfish patriot.

NOTICE TO INVENTORS.

THERE Was never a time in the history ventions and improvements in the arts and sciences generally was so great as now. The Estates and lots for sale, on easy terms conveniences of mankind in the factory and work-shop, the household, on the farm, and in official life, require continual accessions to the appurtances and implements of each in order to save labor, time and expense. The political change in the administration of government does not affect the progress of the American inventor, who, being on the alert and ready to perceive the existing deficiences does not permit the affeits of government. ficiences, does not permit the affairs of government to deter him from quickly conceivng the remedy to overcome existing disnancies. Too great care cannot be exercised in choosing a competent and 'kilful attorney to prepare and prosecute an applifor patent. Valuable interests have been lost and destroyed in innumerable in stances by the employment of incompeten ounsel, and especially is this advice appli-able to those who adopt the "No patent, no bay" ystem. Inventors who intrust their ousiness to this class of attorneys do so at mminent risk, as the breadth and strength the patent is never considered in view of a quick endeavor to get an allowance and ob-tain the fee then due. PATENTS

Equal with the interest of those having claims against the government is that of INVENTORS, who often lose the benefit of valuable inventions because of the incompetency or inattention of the attorneys employed to obtain their patents. Too much care cannot be exercised in employing competent and relible solicitors to procure patents, for the value of a patent depends greatly, if not entirely, upon the care and skill of the attorney.

With the view of protecting inventors from worthless or careless attorneys, and of seeing that inventions are well protected by valid patents, we have retained counsel expert in patent practice, and therefore are prepared to Obtain Patents in the United States and all Foreign Countries, Conduct In-

Scope and Validity of Patents, Prosecute and Defend Infringement Suits, Etc., Etc. If you have an invention on hand send a sketch or photograph thereof, together with a brief description of the important features, and you will be at once advised as to the best course to pursue. Models are seldom necessary. If others are infringing on your rights, or if you are charged with infringement by others, submit the matter to us for a reliable OPINION before acting on the

How to Care For Canaries.

Keep the canary scrupulously clean. The cage should be strewn every morning with clean sand or fine gravel. Fresh water must be given every day, both for drinking and bathing-the latter being in a shallow vessel and during the molting season a small bit of iron should be put in the water for drinking. The food should consist principally of summer rape seed-that is, of those small blown rape seeds which are obtained from plants sown in the spring and which ripen during the summer.

A little chickweed in spring, lettuce leaves in summer and endive in autumn, with slices of sweet apple in winter, may be safely given, but bread and sugar ought to be generally avoided. Occasionally a few poppy or canary seeds, and a small quantity of bruised hempseed may be added, but the last very sparingly. OFFICERS WERE EXPERIMENTING

McGovern Bros.' Periodical Store, Han- With the Object of Improving a New Ironclad.

> KIEL, Feb. 17 .- A terrible accident occurred on board the German ironclad Brandenburg yesterday near Stollergrund, three miles from the Buella lighthouse at the entrance to Kiel bay.

> The big vessel for some time past has been in Kialer Fohrd, one of the best havens in Europe and the chief war harbor of Germany, undergoing various experiments. Yesterday was selected for a forced draught trial. To get the ironclad in first-class condition for the test, 40 officers were sent aboard from the imperial dockyard.

> While 11 of these artificers were in the engine room a tremendous explosion took place. The main steampipe of the starboard engine had burst. Far above the noise of the escaping steam were heard the heart-rending cries of the injured and dying. Panic temporarily spread among the crew, but after a short hesitation every effort was put forth to rescue the unfortunate men in the engine room.

It was then found that of the artificers all but one had been killed. The man who escaped owed his preservation from the fate of his comrades to the fact that at the moment of the explosion he was standing on a ladder near the top of the His companions were all on the floor of the room.

Thirty-Nine Killed. When the steam had cleared away and the panic had subsided, a further search was made for dead and injured. It was then discovered that 39 men in all had been killed and nine injured. This list includes the 10 dead artificers. Thirtyseven of them were killed instantly. Two of the wounded died shortly after receiving their injuries.

patched ... m Kiel to the scene of the disaster. They carried a number of physicians and surgeons and a large quantity of medical supplies. The guard ship Pelican, with Prince Henry of Prussia on board, also put off instantly to the Brandenburg's aid.

The dead and wounded were carried from the Brandenburg to the steamer and conveyed to Kiel. The injured were taken to the hospital. It is believed that all the injured will recover. The details of the accident are very hard to obtain. It is said as soon as the explosion happened all hands were sumoned on deck, and the pumps were rigged. It was not then know what the accident ammounted to, and fears were entertained that the Brandenburg was in danger of sinking.

All day long the most intense excitement has prevailed in Kiel. Most of the dead and injured lived here or in the neighborhood, and many of them were men of families. The wharves were crowded from the time the steamers left for the scene of the explosion until they returned with their victims. As the dead and wounded were borne from the vessels to the shore, the air resounded with the cries of the bereaved, while those who had not lost any friends or relatives uncovered their heads.

Not the First of Its Kind.

Kiel is not unused to such scenes of suffering and death. In August, 1893, an accident similar in its dreadful features to the present one took place while the German vessel Baden was engaged in gun practice at Friederichsort, near Kiel, a shell from some unexplained cause exploding prematurely, killing two lieutenants and seven men.

Shipbuilding is one of the chief industries of Kiel, and its great navy yard is one of the chief features of the city. Kiel is the Baltic headquarters of the German navy. The haven on which it is located runs into Kiel bay, whose waters flow into the Baltic sea.

About the Brandenburg. WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—The German battleship Brandenburg is one of a group of four vessels built on the same general plan. The others are the Kurfurt, the Frederick Wilhelm, the Weissenburg and

They resemble in general plan our own battleships, the Indiana and Massachusetts, but are more nearly the size of the Iowa, their tonnage being 10,300, length 854ft. 4in., beam 64ft., and draft 24ft. 7in. The vessels are not high powered craft, the engines being constructed for a speed of 16 knots, at 9500 horse power. They have heavy barbettes covered with 11 3-4

1891, and was on her trial trip at the time of the disaster. Naval experts have al-ways regarded such accidents as most difficult to guard against. The great pipes, necessary to carry the enormous quantity of steam required to develop 9500 horse power in the engines, are usually made of copper, and the highest mechanical skill is used to make them safe from explosion. Nevertheless, owing to the unknown strains developed in the great lengths of this piping, with its numerous bends and joints, when the steam pressure is run up to high figures, it is almost impossible in advance of actual trial to foretell how the

It is recalled here that several men lost their lives on the United States cruiser Concord a year or two ago by a precisely similar accident. After much speculation and discussion by engineers at the time, the conclusion reached by the majority was that the accident was caused by the development of what is known as a "water hammer," which means that a considerable quantity of condensed water who was formerly a resident of that vilis suddenly hurled through the pipes with lage. Not Fall Upon Peckham

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17 .- Mr. Bland began his coercive tactics to compel a vote on the silver seigniorage bill. The bulk of the Republicans and the Democratic opponents of the measure inaugurated a filibuster with the intention of forcing him to produce a quorum of the advo-cates of the bill, and the entire day was consumed in rollcalls. The highest number of votes Mr. Bland was able to poll was 163 in favor of his demand for the previous question on the motion to close debate. Of these, 145 were Democrats, 9 Populists and 9 Republicans.

There were only 22 members present when the house opened last night, and Mr. Kilgore blocked all proceedings when Mr. Martin moved to go into commit-tee of the whole, by demanding a division. The house adjourned at 8:50, without doing anything.

The senate adjourned a few minutes past 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon, after spending the better part of two days considering the nomination of W. H. Peckham of New York to be associate justice of the supreme court. The vote had just been taken on a motion to confirm the nomination, and the result was a rejection by a vote of 32 to 41.

A GOOD CAPTURE.

Eighty Anarchists Quietly Bagged by Police of London.

London, Feb. 17.-The police last night raided the Autonomie club and made several arrests. They encountered no opposition. They took possession of the house and detained all the inmates. The raid was managed very quietly, and the members of the club arriving late walked unsuspectingly into the arms of the policemen. One of these, a Frenchman, struggled savagely, and cheered for anarchy before he was overpowered.

The total number of prisoners is about 80. The majority of them are Germans and Bohemians. All were examined carefully, and then ordered to show their passports. Few of them could do this. The police have searched several buildings near the clubhouse, notably Bour-din's private lodgings and the rooms of Jean Pierre Francois, whom the French government considered an accomplice of Ravachol and tried to extradite. They found much anarchist literature in both places, and a few explosives in Bourdin's

FRANK BYRNE IS DEAD.

His Name Figured Prominently In the Phonix Park Murder.

PROVIDENCE, Feb. 17 .- Frank Byrne of this city died here yesterday from heart disease. He was well known as the secretary of the Irish Land league, both in London and Paris, from 1880 to 1882. His death recalls the assassination of Lord Frederick Cavendish and Under Secretary Burke on May 6, 1882, in Phoenix park, Dublin. Byrne was at that time in London as the league officer. Mrs. Byrne was arrested some months later and accused by the Dublin police of having brought the knives, with which the murder was committed, over from London. She was detained in Dublin eastle and was subjected to the mos severe inquisition, after which she was released.

Byrne afterward moved to Paris. Th French government refused England's request for Byrne's extradition and he came to this country, after repeated attempt to kidnap him by English emissaries.

He went into business for himself in New York, but failed, and since that time has been engaged as a drummer for several commercial firms. He finally settled down in this city, in the cigar business down in this city in the cigar business. He leaves a widow, a daughter 17 years old and a son 12 years of age.

Editorial Comment.

ENGINEER BLAKE, employed by the city of Newburyport to investigate the present water supply, is getting into hot water. His report criticised the present works so severely that the company has authorized its superintendent to bring suit for libel for $70,000. Sentiment is against the company however and Mayor Gurney considers it is a game of bluff. The water fights at Newburyport and Gloucester will be watched with interest by Quincy people who have been through it.

THE TRUSTEES of the Woodward Fund and Property should be in no hurry to make additions to the Woodward institute or erect another building. The school can be opened in the present building and a a year or two later, when it is ascertained how many young ladies desire to attend, and what the expenses are, alterations can be considered. The annual report of the treasurer of the fund shows the cash assets Jan. 1, 1894, to have been $295,863.84. Thus far $22,248.98 have been spent on the new institute and lot, as follows: Building, $15,734.32; foundation and masonry, $2,199.00, and filling and grading, $4,315 .-

A company of professional men, composed of some of the lawyers, doctors, newspaper men and actors whose names are famous on both sides of the Atlantic, was scattered in finally gave the alarm. The British groups about the rooms smoking and troops quickly turned out, but had chatting after the Saturday night supper, which had become a standard institution with them. In a sheltered corner over by the fireplace sat a small knot of men, every one of whom had reached the top, or at least the front rank, of his profession. The talk, drifting in a smooth, desultory, half sleepy assumed a retrospective hue. From one to another the story had passed, each telling the tale of an empty stomach, or an empty pocket, or a hopeless tramp of 30 miles or so in thin shoes along a snowbound road in search of employ-

"The recollection uppermost in my mind just now, while you boys have been talking about tramping and winter roads and all that, is of a certain Christmas dinner at which I was present. I wonder whether any of you remember a poor fellow, long since dead-Joe Robin -who played small parts in London and outside it, and who made the one the profession. Joe had been in the men's underwear business and was doing well when an amateur performance for a charitable object was organized, and he was cast for the part of the clown in a burlesque of 'Guy Fawkes.' Joe belonged to one of the bohemian clubs, and on the night of the show his friends among the actors and journalists attended in a body to give him a 'sendoff.' He played that part capitally, and

How to Protect Yourself.

If you get into a quarrel with a man and see that you can't get out of it without a fight right then and there, forget that he has a head, pick out the second button of his vest and smash him on it as hard as you can. In 90 cases out of 100 you'll win the battle without another lick. There is no foul about a stomach blow; it's only when you get below the belt that you are open to criticism. Of course you are liable to ach, but that's what you are there for. Most people who get into a sudden row

Not Easy to Interview.

H. N. Higinbotham of World's fair fame is one of the most genial of Chicago's big men and one of its easist to approach. But that does not mean that Mr. Higinbotham is an easy man to interview. Quite the reverse. Except on matters to which his opinion is pertinent he will not talk for publication For instance, if he is asked for an interview on the tariff he will lead the con versation away from that topic and describe volubly the condition of the Mo hammedans in Palestine as he saw it when last visiting the Holy Land. The result is that the interviewer spends half an hour or so in delightful conversation and leaves with absolutely nothing to write about .- Chicago Post.

FOR INVENTIONS.

Equal with the interest of those having claims against the government is that of INVENTORS, who often lose the benefit of valuable inventions because of the incompetency or inattention of the attorneys employed to obtain their patents. Too much care cannot be exercised in employing competent and relible solicitors to procure patents, for the value of a patent depends greatly, if not entirely, upon the care and skill of the attorney.

With the view of protecting inventors from worthless or careless attorneys, and of seeing that inventions are well protected by valid patents, we have retained counsel expert in patent practice, and therefore are prepared to Obtain Patents in the United States and all Foreign Countries, Conduct Interferences, Make Special Examinations, Prosecute Rejected Cases, Register Trade-Marks and Copyrights, Render Opinions as to Scope and Validity of Patents, Prosecute and Defend Infringement Suits, Etc., Etc. London Anarchists Are In Favor of Physical Force.

"MARTYRS" ARE PRAISED

At the Public Meeting of the Autonomie Club.

London, Feb. 19 .- Crowds of curious persons swarmed Greenwich park yesterday, packed the terrace in front of the celebrated observatory and filled all the other elevated portions of this popular resort for Londoners, from which is obtainable so extensive and interesting a view over the river. Stakes dotted the ground where portions of the dynamited body of the anarchist, Bourdin, had been found.

Autonomie club, under the auspices of the International Workers' group, was attended by only 15 persons. Fourteen of these were foreigners. The speakers who had been announced to address the meeting did not appear. After a wait of two hours Gibbons made a speech, in the course of which he urged individual effort in righting the wrongs they complained of, and held up Vaillant, Pallas and 'other martyrs' as worthy of his hearers' emulation. Hundreds, he said, were ready to sacrifice their lives in the great cause. He himself was perfectly prepared to do so. They had nothing to live for, but were simply the slaves of the capitalists. Speeches, he added, were useless, and physical force was necessary.

Advised to Study Chemicals.

When the government and Mr. Asquith he continued, abandoned making Maxim guns for use against the people the latter would relinquish the manufacture of dynamite bombs. The speaker advised workers to read books on chemicals which they could find in the public libraries, and to learn the use of them.

Other speeches, similar in tone, but in foreign language, were made to the audience, which ultimately numbered 80 persons. These 80 made up in enthusiasm for the smallness of the gathering, and wildly cheered at every opportunity the sentiments of their leaders.

Many detectives in citizens' clothin were scattered in all parts of the meeti place. This may have had its good effect for outside of the threatening language the meeting was an orderly one.

XANTIPPE.

Daphne stepped lightly out over the threshold of her door. The sun was shining with an intolerable glare on the white marble walls of the houses around and on the white lime dust of the pavement, causing Daphne's bright, laughing eyes to wink and blink involuntarily. She drew a thin, gauzy veil over her head and face and slipped, keeping carefully within the sparse shadow cast by the walls of the houses to a dwelling near by. There, under a portico which led out into a courtyard, upon a circular marble bench, sat the one whom she was seeking-a young and beautiful woman. A long white garment, with a border embroidered in crimson, lay in heavy, graceful folds about her small outstretched feet; an upper garment (the chiton) of the same color as the robe was gathered closely up about her neck, but left her slender arms quite bare, one of which rested languidly upon the carved back of the seat. The woman's small head was bound with Euclid laughed jeeringly at her words, but Socrates replied mildly "Justice is one of the chieftest virtues belonging to man. As I gave thee no money at thy request, the fault is mine. The next time, however, my Xantippe, when I do not heed thy words, raise thy voice and continue speaking until thou succeedest in attracting my attention. Let the evening meal, therefore, be prepared earlier than usual. And now fetch us a vessel of wine, that we may continue our discourse with minds and bodies refreshed." Xantippe's beautiful face cleared up at Socrates' quiet words. "Thou seest," she waispered when she and Daphne were alone together again, "how kind and just he is.'

And she kept her husband's advice, to raise her voice while speaking to him, fixed firmly in her memory.

The next day, therefore, when Socrates turned a deaf ear to her request for money-he being at that time in earnest conversation with Daphne's husband, Antisthenes—she raised her voice as she had been bidden by him, and as he still continued oblivious to her request she screamed, in a voice so shrill and loud that she herself was startled at the sound of it, "Socrates, give me some money!"

show that both in number and character of interests involved, the pecition is more repre-sentative of the manufactures, trade and labor of Massachusetts than any which has been sent from the Bay state to Washington for many years past.

The readiness with which the petition has been signed by those to whom it was presented makes it entirely clear that the great mass of Democrats of this state, as well as large numbers of Republicans, look forward with hope to the wider market and the quickened industry which free wool, free coal and free iron ore will bring, and that they welcome the relief from oppressive and unjust taxation which is promised by the Wilson tariff. ### DONE WITH A RUSH.

Senator White Nominated to the Supreme Bench Vacancy.

HE IS IMMEDIATELY CONFIRMED.

Senator Hill Favored Him but Felt Snubbed.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20 .- Senator White of Louisiana was yesterday nominated for justice of the supreme court of the United States. The senate went into executive session at 3 p. m., and had hardly had time to recover from the surprise which the nomination had occasioned when his confirmation was announced. While months had been spent in considering the nomination of Messrs. Hornblower and Peckham, and more time devoted to them by the senate committee on the judiciary, the name of Mr. White was not referred to the committee at all, and in less than an hour after the nomination had been received, the senate had placed its seal of approval upon the selection, had robbed itself of an esteemed member and had given the supreme court the one man necessary to make a full bench. There was no show of opposition, and the vote was unanimously and heartily in favor of confirmation. The proceedings prior to the casting the vote consisted entirely of the deliver ing of eulogistic speeches by members the senate judiciary committee and by Senator Caffery. There were two speeche by Democratic members of the committee and two by Republican members, Senators Pugh and Hill speaking for the Democratic side, and Senators Hoar an Teller for the Republican.

Hill Talks of a Slight. Senator Hill, in supporting the nomination, referred to Senator White's fitness but expressed regret that the president had been unable to make a suitable selec tion from among the hundreds of com petent jurors and able jurists in New York state, whose nomination would have provoked no opposition.

Mr. Hill continued: "It may be as serted as a fact that almost any one of the 40 judges of the supreme court of RASPBERRY New York state, or any one of the presen federal judges there residing, would have been acceptable to the senate had th president, in his wisdom, seen fit to honor any of them with the nomination. There is no dispute upon this point, but the president's choice, in my opinion, seemed to have been limited to a select few, for easons best known to himself.

"I believe that the state of New York was entitled to the judgeship, and had APRICOT the senators from that state been con sulted, as they properly should have been and as courtesy and usage required, a satisfactory selection from the numerous eminent members of the bar of my state could easily have been made.

"You well know that the senators from disappointment. They pressed no favorpower, but whatever action they took was loyalty to the people's interest whom they and scattered. The once thriving town of represented, and to the regular Democratic organization to which they belonged. Mr. Hill concluded by saying that while this appointment might be considered a slight to New York or a reflection on its distinguished judiciary, the senators could congratulate themselves that so ad-

BINDING ROAD METAL.

How to Secure the Best Results In Solidi. fying Broken Stone.

After the necessary excavation to contain the road metal has been completed, the broken stone should be spread broadcast with shovels to insure a thorough mixing of the various sized pieces and raked until the layer is of the proper thickness. For a roadway 16 feet wide it will be best to make the thickness of the layer about two inches thicker at the center of the roadway than at the extreme edges, because the wear will be most excessive at the center and the extra thickness will not only provide for the Ledger opposed it. Donnelly lot an this, but will also serve to give the finished roadway a proper crown, and thus insure good drainage.

If the final thickness of the compacted roadway is to be 4 inches, one layer will from the carts it should be about 7 inches thick at the center and about 5 inches thick at the sides. If the final thickness is to be 6 inches, it is generally best to put on two layers, each having a thickness of about 5 inches at the center and about 31 inches at the sides, and in case care should be taken to thoroughly roll and bind the bottom layer before the second layer is applied.

If we examine a dozen pieces of stone taken at random from a heap of road metal as it comes from the crusher, we shall find them to be of most irregular shapes and generally lacking uniformity in size. It will be impossible to lay these stones closely in contact with each other so as Squantum street west of the railroad, and spaces between their irregular faces and the lace, in the lining and in every the other for lights on Botolph street. angles. The Cost of Good Roads Lessening. Data already gathered show that new roads are already constructing in many parts of the country, and that increased knowledge and skill, improved machinery and methods and extended practical experieuce are rapidly lessening the cost of good roads. Civil Engineer Harrison of Asbury Park, N. J., is authority for the statement that while two or three years ago the cost of roadbuilding was $10,000 per mile it was last year $3,500 of the peculiar sections of the Atlantic per mile. Professor J. B. Hunnicut of the University of Georgia, in response to an inquiry from the road bureau of the agricultural department, states that the cost of good, hard roads recently built in Georgia, providing for a track of stone and one of earth, was $1,200 a mile. Supervisor Chapin of Canandaigua, N. Y., in a letter to General Roy Stone, reports that 10 miles of a single track stone road, with an earth track each side, was built in that town for $700 a mile.

"'No,' she said, with a smile. 'It did not have such a hold on me as I thought it did.'

"One day, after she had been there over a month, we discovered by mere accident what kept her so cheerful. One of our attendants caught her in the act two separate layers are to be put on of taking opium. When we asked her where she had obtained the drug, she refused at first to tell. After a little urging, however, she told us that she had brought a lot of opium with her.

A DOZEN ANARCHISTS

On Trial For Plotting Against the Austrian Emperor's Life.

THE STORY OF THEIR CAPTURE

And the Startling Discoveries Made by Police.

VIENNA, Feb. 20 .- The trial of the 12 anarchists arrested in September last, charged with conspiring against the life of Emperor Francis Joseph, began yester day. The defense asked that part of the proceedings be made public, but the court ruled that the trial should take place in secret. This is one of the most sensa tional and romantic on record.

Some of the most extraordinary exhibits ever brought into a court will be shown, and the prisoners will be doubtless proven to have been in touch with the anarchists of England and America. During the months of July and August last, the Austrian police were greatly exercised by the successful dissemination among the working classes, and every

In the gray dawn of Friday, Sept. 22, small body of detectives posted themselves opposite No. 65. They had ascer-tained that one of the two men so urgently "wanted," Stephen Hahnel, had to begin work in a cabinet factory at 6 o'clock. When he appeared he was quickly arrested. Upon the person of the prisoner, the detectives found the tiny latchkey of the dwelling which Hahnel shared with his still uncaptured fellow conspirators.

nent. He had opened the door in the belief that his companion, Hahnel, had forgotten something. Finding himself confronted by the police, Haspel tried to shut the door again, but he was easily made prisoner and a search was begun. The furniture of the sitting room consisted of an oblong couch, covered with black American leather, a small browntrunk, a wardrobe and two or three chairs. A closer inspection of these articles of furniture yielded startling results.

Startling Revelations.

What struck the detectives at once was the extraordinary weight of the couch. A close inspection revealed the existence of a secret lock. As no key to fit was forth-

Inside was a perfect arsenal of explosive bombs already to be charged; some in glass and some in metal, and, in addi-tion, metal cases, tubes, wires, clock works and implements of various kinds. The necessary explosives for charging the infernal machines were also discovered. Revolvers, ammunition and a large amount of stationery were also found.

Finally, in a wardrobe, the police found one or more coats, with swivels or hooks carrying bombs. While the search was in progress, a dewhich announced the formal severance termined attempt at suicide was made by the prisoner Haspel. ### POLICE CALLED UPON

To Drive Angry Unemployed From Massachusetts' State House.

POOR JUDGMENT OF LEADERS

Causes the Governor to Show Signs of Anger.

Boston, Feb. 21.-About 1500 men asembled on the Common yesterday under the auspices of the association for the unemployed, and listened to semi-anarchistic speeches made by Morrison I. Swift and Herhert N. Casson. Under the influence and firy ardor of the speeches the crowd, headed by the two speakers, marched to the state house, where these self-appointed leaders interviewed Governor Greenhalge, while the crowd renained outside. They demanded that work should be given to the men they represented.

The governor signified his willingness to do all in his power to help the unemployed, and he had no doubt the legisla ture would do the same. Upon the invitation of the delegation the governor ad dressed the crowd. He told them that personally he would do all he could and that he would recommend action by the legislature. He pointed out that the general court had no power to give work to the unemployed except it had money to pay them and that such work must be for the public good. The governor insisted that the first duty of every citizen was obedience to the laws.

This speech did not meet with the approval of the crowd, and they surged into the state house to present to the legislature a petition, but which was couched in the terms of a demand. The petition stated how the unemployed have starved for months with patience after making many appeals for employment, which the city and state were alone competent to furnish, and should have supplied in the beginning. They ask the legislature to provide farms and factories where the unemployed at all times may work to supply their own wants. This petition was presented to the legislature by Represen-

At the close of this incident the mempers of the state police and 50 Boston policemen were called upon the scene After a consultation with the governor house. The crowd was defiant, and shouts went up of "Kill the police" and "Down The sight of the clubs in the hands of strong men, however, soon tended to disperse the hissing and velling meetings which will be held until the unemployed get work." What the Governor Thinks of It.

In answer to a query of a reporter as to what he thought of the demonstration at the state house, Governor Greenhalge said: "My impression is that law and or- results. der are prevalent, and that a feature was the idea of subjection to law. I felt no uneasiness in the presence of large numbers in the state house. It is very difficult to know what the extent of the exigency is. Everything was all right. I had made my speech, but the crowd still had a notion of presenting their petition to the house. At first they were quiet and orderly, and I would like to have argued with 1000 of them. Those fellows (referring to Morrison and Casson) began to make incendiary speeches, and I said to 20 policemen. I told those fellows that they could not run this place. I picked out the leaders and told them I would hold them responsible for any trouble."

Students' Riot at Ithaca Has a Very Disastrous Ending.

ROCHESTER, Feb. 21.-A special to The Morning Herald from Ithaca says: This village passed through another annual class riot last night. The occasion was the freshman banquet at the old Masonic hall on Tioga street.

The city officials, recognizing approaching trouble, trebled the police force and added a large number of specials. The freshmen congregated on the campus and started down the hill to have their feast. When they reached the hall where they were to have their banquet, they were met by four or five hundred sophonores, "townies" and seniors, who proeeded to prevent their entrance to the building. In opposition to the school which the church had established, some of the gentlemen of the congregation have formed an "Anti-Chinese Sunday School society." They claim that because a lady teacher is assigned to each Chinese scholar, the teachers, who almost without exception are young, are in great danger from the close personal contact with the Mongolians. Cases of marriage of teacher and pupil are cited, and a determined effort to rescue the young ladies from possible peril will be made. An entertainment given by 100 Chinamen to as many Chicago ladies at the church two nights ago brought matters to a focus.

There has recently been a great change in bedroom washstand appointments. The water jug with a square mouth has been replaced by those set in a stand and requiring merely to be tilted. The patterns of the Doulton ware seem most attractive. The newest receptacles for tooth and nail brushes are upright jars. There is a decided tendency for plain milk white table ware. Its merit lies in its strength and in the fact that it can be easily matched. The Shropshire variety of this pure white ware has already been seen in the dainty covered tea cups and bread and butter plates shown for some time past for invalid and bedroom use.

In buying choice wares like the Worcester and Crown Derby there is a well covered style that is deemed most desirable, and in case of the latter the price of a modern service is not beyond the reach of the well to do.

Lo, I am weary of all! Of men, and their love, and their hate I have been long enough life's thrall, And the toy of a tyrant fate.

I would have nothing but rest, I would not struggle again; Take me now to thy breast, Earth, sweet mother of men.

Hide me, and let me sleep; Give me a lonely tomb, So close, and so dark, and so deep, I shall hear no trumpet of doom

There let me lie forgot, When the dead at its blast are gone; Give me to hear it not, But only to slumber on

This is the fate I crave, For I look to the end and see, If there be not rest in the grave,
There will never be rest for me.

War Still Raging Over the Bland Seigniorage Bill.

THE SENATE AND THE TARIFF.

Caucus of Democrats Appears to Be Inevitable.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.-The deadlock on in the house. Rollcall followed rollcall until 4 o'clock, when, it being apparent that Mr. Bland could not muster a quorum on his proposition, he moved an adjournment. The high water mark yesterday was 170, nine short of a quorum. Deputy sergeants-at-arms went out to all parts of the country to arrest absentees ander the continuing order, and the house leaders assert most emphatically that the fight will be continued until a quorum is Concerning the Tariff.

There has been considerable talk about SOUTH QUINCY-Peter Haverly and by the senate of the prospect of a Demo-cractic caucus to consider the tariff bill. Senator Gibson, who has been co-operating with Senator Gorman and others to secure a duty on coal, said that he considered a caucus inevitable and that he thought it would be held during the first part of next week.

Members of the finance committee do not consider that a caucus will be necessary, for they confidently predict that none will be held. The meeting of the full Democratic committee does not change the aspect of the situation so far as can be learned, though it came near doing so, and at one time looked as if the meeting might result in ordering the calling of a committee meeting today and the reporting of the bill to the full committee then. Only the fact that the week will then be half gone and that the senate will probably adjourn over until Monday on ac-count of Washington's birthday pre-

A Hitch on Sugar. The sugar schedule appears to be at present the item which is giving the greatest annoyance. The opinion current about the senate is that while a majority of the sub-committee are opposed to any duty whatever on sugar, they will concede about 3-4 of a cent. There is good authority for the statement that the committee has decided upon a small duty on coal, and also on lead ore. A member of the committee gave as his op nion that the tax on manufactured toacco would be undisturbed, but thought t poss ble that a tax would be placed on nmanufactured leaf tobacco. The tobacco manufacturers are exerting personal property of Spanish subjects, who after the cession of Florida took up their residence in Cuba, declining to give illegiance to the new flag. In the treaty of 1819, enacted between Spain and the United States, articles were included providing for the settlement of damages sustained by these Spaniards, but these claims have been pending ever since. It is probable that, together with a num-

"NOT LAWFUL MONEY." Attorney General Olney's Decision Concerning Silver Certificates. WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.-Some days ago, Secretary Carlisle requested of Attorney General Olney an opinion as to whether silver certificates authorized by section 3 of the act of Feb. 28, 1878, are lawful money within the meaning of section 4 of the act of June 20, 1870, and section 9 of the act of July 12, 1888. In response thereto, the attorney general yesterday submitted his opinion as follows:

"Silver certificates are just what they purport to be on their face and by their terms-that is, they attest the fact that the United States has on deposit so many silver dollars which will be paid to the holder upon the presentation and surrender of such certificates. If they can be regarded as money at all, it is only because the United States agrees to receive them for customs taxes and all public duties, and only to that extent and for those specific purposes. In my opinion they are not 'lawful money' within the meaning of the statutes above

This opinion, it is said, embodies the views long entertained and acted upon by the treasury officials. The decision will not have the effect of changing the policy of the treasury in any respect.

Mr. Eckenrode's Eel Catch Almost Unpar alleled In the Annals of Fishing.

A remarkable haul of eels was made the other day by Cosmos Eckenrode, who was fishing along the Tulpehocken. There is a variety of eels known as the tandem eel, which is very seldom found in this state, though common in the west A peculiarity of this variety is that they travel, when migrating, single file, about six inches apart, and maintain that distance exactly during the time of their progress. If one of the lot shoots ahead too rapidly, the one following immediately grasps him by the tail in order to drag him back to his proper place in the line. They appear to have a remarkable instinct for distance, and the variation of an inch will cause the rear eel to exercise his authority to put the brakes on the one ahead.

While Mr. Eckenrode was fishing he nooked one of the travelers, a very remarkable circumstance, as they seldom bite while migrating. As soon as he had hooked it he of course gave a haul on the line, which caused this particular eel to shoot ahead. He was immediately grasped by the one following, and as that one likewise shot ahead the next one did the same, so that when Mr. Eckenrode began to haul out he found a solid rope of eels. Dropping his rod and line, he grasped the living rope and began to haul in hand over hand. He kept hauling in and piling up the eels until he was utterly exhausted, when he was obliged to stop and cut the connection. He quickly ran for assistance, and a number of the neighbors came to help him take care of his rare catch. When they were all gathered up and loaded on wagons, it was found that he had 875 pounds. About $50 worth were sent to the Reading market, and the rest were distributed among his neighbors.

The news of his remarkable catch has spread all over the upper part of the county, and a great many fishermen have been endeavoring to repeat it, but without success, since, according to naturalists, an occurrence of this sort is one of the rarest in fishing.—Reading Herald.

LIGHTING THE CAPITOL.

Large Electric Light Plant to Be Put In by the Government.

It is probable that the electric lighting plant to be put in the nation's capitol will not only be required to light that building, but also to illuminate the congressional library, which is to be the largest building of its kind in the world, and which, by reason of its uses, will require the best class of illumination.

To accommodate such a plant it will be necessary to locate the engine and dynamos in a structure erected for this special purpose. The location of the power house is now being carefully considered, and the decision will probably be reached very soon. The house will be ornamental in appearance, and will be of gram of the New England congress of the sufficient size to contain not only the Salvationists. They were the banquets, the parades and the exercise in the Peo- but also for other buildings that may be added to the group clustering around the capitol, notably the home for the su-

A careful estimate has placed the original cost of the building, the machinery the wiring and general installation of the plant at $200,000. This will insure the work to be of the best character and the plant to be of sufficient size to furnish all ings and the grounds. This latter is a most important item in the calculations, minute addresses and singing. The for at present there is an utterly inadequate illumination of the great park. It is not certain whether the grounds will be lighted by arc lamps or groups of incandescent globes. But this is a matter of detail to be settled afterward. A rough estimate that has already been made of the cost of maintaining the new plant, which will do not only the work now done by the gas and electric plants in the capitol building, but also the entire work of lighting the new library building and the Maltby House, shows that it will cost in the neighborhood of $19,000.

Hitches on Coal, Sugar and Manufactured Articles.

Washington, Feb. 23.-Senators Butler, Brice, Hill and Caffery held a conference in Senator Butler's committee room yes terday, and 10 minutes after it had been concluded Senator Butler circulated a call for a Demo ratic caucus, to be held Monday, to consider the tariff question and for other purposes, such as the filling of the committee vacancies caused by the retirement of Senators White and Wal-inquestionably are most disturbed over the situation concerning the tariff bill. They used the half-holiday yesterday to make a decided effort to agree upon the features of the bill so as to insure its passage. They did not make much narked progress, according to all reports, and they will continue their efforts on Saturday undisturbed by official business, as the senate has adjourned until Monday. Whether the call for a caucus shall be considered seriously will depend upon the success of Democratic senators in reaching an agreement without this con-Where the Trouble Lies.

A movement against the bill as prepared by the sub-committee was more clearly outlined yesterday than at any previous time. It includes senators specially interested in securing a duty on sugar, coal and various manufactured articles. The senators contend for a higher duty than the sub-committee willing to concede, in the interest of harmony and entire unity on the tariff bill within the Democratic party.

The coal men say that 50 cents a ton will not prevent the importation of large quantities of Nova Scotia coal to New York and New England, and vigorously oppose any lower than this.

The New York senators and Senators Smith of New Jersey and Brice of Ohio find a variety of provisions in the bill to which they object, as it affects many in-dustries in their states. They have said very little as to their views with regard to the bill, but there is little doubt as to neir attitude being antagonistic to it in ts present shape.

It is said that Republicans are being sked if they would support the bill in case Democratic senators should vote against it. Senator Pettigrew of South said it was not possible for the committee to agree on a bill which would insure

THOMPSON'S ARGUMENT

QUINCY, MASS., FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 23, 1894.

Measures at Brazil. WASHINGTON, Feb. 23 .- In the view of sentatives of a resolution commending the conduct of Admiral Benham in opening the harbor at Rio to American commerce at the risk a warlike encounter with the insurgent fleet, it may not be amiss to call attention to the fact that United States Minister to Brazil Thompson is entitled to a share in the commendation that has been showered upon the naval Impressions Gained by a Visit officer, as the minister was largely in strumental in opening the harbor.

When Captain Picking was in command of the United States naval forces in Rio harbor, Mr. Thompson took the position that American merchant ships should be permitted to reach the wharves without langer. The naval commander held that the merchantmen had no right to get in the line of fire, except at their own peril. On this general position the minister agreed with him, but he differed with Captain Pick g as to what "the line of fire" was. On this the minister and the namal commander fell apart and it may be recalled that signs of this difference were plainly apparent in the strained relations between them.

When Admiral Benham came upon the scene and assumed command of the American war vessels, Minister Thompson renewed his proposition and succeeded in bringing the admiral to his point of view.

NORTHAMPTON, Mass., Feb. 23 .- An audience that completely filled Smith college chapel listened last evening to Chauncey M. Depew, who told the young ladies and their invited guests of the impression made upon him by his recent trip to Italy. The chapel was filled wherever it was possible to put a human body. The speaker and the invited guests were the recipients of a tremendous outburst of applause.

As soon as the guests were seated on the platform the entire audience joined in the singing of "America," which was followed by prayer by Rev. Roland C. Smith. President Seelye, in introducing Dr. Depew, alluded to the patriotic significance of the day. He said that was intended to have present William L Wilson of West Virginia, as a representa tive of Washington's native state, and that congressman had gladly ac the invitation, but at a late date had been compelled to withdraw his acceptance account of ill health. Disappointed this, he was glad to announce that the had been able to secure a man whos name was associated with one of the noblest eulogies of Washington, one whom every one knows, one whom everybody admires, and one whom everybody longs to hear.

Dr. Depew was greeted with round after round of applause when he rose in response to President Seelye's introduction and it was several minutes before he wa given an opportunity to begin. Dr. De pew kept his contract as to an information talk, which ranged from grave to gay from oratory to after-dinner joviality from the sublime to the ridiculous. It was entertaining, instructive, eloquent with word-painting and sparkling with wit and anecdote. It held the closest atten tion of his audience for an hour and threquarters, and was plentifully supplied with laughter and applause by the audi-

Covered Wide Ground.

Dr. Depew contrasted the railway ser vice of the continent to that of our own country, to the latter's glorification, gave glimpses of Florence and Genoa, tole funny stories of his experiences wit Roman guides, visited the Colosseum and Catacombs, traversed the Appian Way from which he drew true lessons of his tory, painted the marvellous city Pompeii in glowing word-pictures, paie eloquent tributes to Cicero, Desmosthenes Michael Angelo and Raphael, and gave his hearers a private audience with th

This was by far the most interesting portion of the address. He described the pope as a man of remarkable power. The topic of conversation was the pope's encyclical on capital and labor, and Dr. Depew found that the pope had made a urer Hyde and Superintendent Andrews thorough study of the topic. The population was described as being very thin, weighing in the vicinity of 100 pounds, with a face of marked intellectuality, a high forehead and a brilliant eye. He talked eloquently, and believed that the solution of the problem was to be based on the principle of the fatherhood of God and the brotherhood of man. The pope met Dr. Depew very informally, advancing to meet him, grasping him by the hand and giving him a cordial greet

In closing, the speaker paid a tribute to the genius and intellect of old men a typified by the pope at 84, Premie Crispi at 76, Bismarck at 79, and Gladstone, the grand old man.

A Dastardly Deed. OMAHA, Feb. 23.-Fire was discovered in a cottage here yesterday. Neighbors broke into the house and in a closet they found Mrs. Fred Rothschilds badly burned, with her clothes consumed. Sh said that a tramp came out of her cellar overpowered her, saturated her clothes with kerosene, placed her in the closet set her on fire, and then locked her in. The woman may recover. The tramp is thought to be none other than Mrs. cash. Rothschilds' husband, from whom she has been separated.

Balm For a Wounded Heart.

Moncton, N. B., Feb. 23.—Last summe George B. Dibble, manager of the Man chester (Eng.) Guardian, came to this country to attend the World's fair and visit relatives here. He became engaged to Miss Mary Robinson. On Dibble's re turn home he wished to break the engage ment. She started an action for breach of promise, placing damages at 5000 pounds. A compromise has been effected and the young 4ady received 500 pounds and her lawyer 50 pounds.

HIGH SCHOOL DEBATE.

New President Elected-Pleasing Enter tainment-Interesting Debate.

Miss Meaney opened the meeting of the High school Debating club on Wednesday. Miss White, secretary, gave her report. Miss Bryan moved that the report be accepted. Miss Mary Sampson seconded the motion. The report was accepted.

Under unfinished business the election of president was held. Miss Keenan was appointed teller. Miss Lowe, '95 was elected president.

The entertainment consisted of the ollowing numbers:

Recitation,-Miss Bryant, '95; a very bright humorous poem well rendered. Recitation,-Miss Lowe, '95; a charming selection very well received. Recitation,-Miss Keating, '95; a stand ard poem "The Burial of Sir John Moore" given with excellent effect.

HEADACHE? Essay,-" What the Moon Saw," Miss Souther, '94; a pleasant essay telling some of the complaints made against the moon

Essay,-" Learning How to Cook," Miss McGovern, '95. Evidently cooking in the schools has produced some effect on the pupils. The various mishaps of a young cook were described in a very interesting

The debate followed: Resolved, That Arctic explorations have been a failure The affirmative speakers were, Miss Pope, '94; Miss Shea, '94; Miss Souther, Miss Christine Sweeny, '94.

The speakers in the negative were: Miss Bassett, '95; Miss Bates, '95 and Miss

An Appeal Filed.

There was filed in the office of the clerk of courts at Dedham, Wednesday, an appeal from the decision of acting Judge of Probate Harriman, in allowing Jan. 24, 1894, the will of Mrs. S. D. Holden, late of Quincy. Mrs. Holden left an estate valued at several thousand dollars, and appointed her son-in-law, E. P. Howland, executor. Her will was drawn Feb. 9, 1882. The appeal is made by J. O. Holden. No grounds are alleged for taking the appeal, but it is said they will be stated later.

resident Tucker of Dartmouth Endorses President Eliot's Views.

HANOVER, N. H., Feb. 23.-President fucker of Dartmouth college comments apon the athletic subjects touched upon by President Eliot of Harvard in his annual report as follows:

No fairer statement has been made than in the paragraph in which he contrasts the advantages and disadvantages of athletics as now carried on. Some of the positions which he takes apply differently different colleges. I think that it is true, as a rule, that athletics take too much time, and, what is of equal ac count in some colleges, too much money. Freshmen must be allowed opportunities to maintain and develop athletic enthusiasm, but men should not be allowed to play on any of the college teams until they have secured standing in college Football is at best a dangerous game Safety must be chiefly in skill. In enter ing upon the general effect of athletics, I should lay as much stress on the mental recreation which they give to a whole college as to the physical development which they secure to the few.

WORK IN SLUMS The Topic Considered by Commanders of the Salvation Army. Boston, Feb. 23 .- So far as public demonstration is concerned, the Salvation Army was exceedingly quiet yesterday. It was the third day of the New England congress, and it was devoted to business, pure and simple. Commander-in-Chief and Mrs. Booth yesterday afternoon called a council of all the commanding officers throughout New England. It lasted three hours. None but commanders were admitted, and the time was taken up in the discussion of more efficient methods of getting effective work done in the slums of New England cities. Commander Booth demonstrated the work that had been done and that was being done by the rank and file of the army. Certain it is, if his remarks were true, that the Salvationists are doing a great and glorious work in New England among a class of people—the lowest, most degraded and most nearly calloused to all good things-a class which no other religious organization makes any definite steps to reach. Commander Booth is himself a worker, and work was the word he preached to the council yesterday after-

NOTICE TO INVENTORS.

THERE Was never a time in the history of our country when the demand for inventions and improvements in the arts and sciences generally was so great as now. The conveniences of mankind in the factory and workshop, the household on the farm, and in official life, recuir continual accessions to the appurtances and implements of each in order to save labor, time and expense. The political change in the administration of government does not affect the progress of the American inventor, who, being on the alert and ready to perceive the existing deficiences, does not permit the affairs of government to deter him from quickly conceiving the remedy to overcome existing discrepancies. Too great care cannot be exercised in choosing a competent and skilful attorney to prepare and prosecute an application for patent. Valuable interests have been lost and destroyed in innumerable instances by the employment of incompetent counsel, and especially is this advice applicable to those who adopt the "No patent, no pay" system. Inventors who intrust their business to this class of attorneys do so at imminent risk, as the breadth and strength of the patent is never considered in view of a ventions and improvements in the arts and business to this class of attorneys do so at imminent risk, as the breadth and strength of the patent is never considered in view of a quick endeavor to get an allowance and obtain the fee then due. Unexpected Remarks at a Washington's Birthday Banquet.

"NATIONAL CREDIT" THE THEME.

He Works In His Opinions of Southern Statesmen.

NEW YORK, Feb. 23.-What was intended to be a celebration last night of Washington's birthday on an elaborate scale had been planned by the New York Southern society. Owing to a strange mischance, however, many of the guests of honor expected did not put in their appearance at the annual banquet.

Secretary Carasle, Speaker Crisp, Congressman Allen of Mississippi and Hon. Isador Rayner of Maryland were invited, but all of these, at the last moment, found it impossible to attend. Ex-Mayor Abram S. Hewitt, responding to the toast, "Our national credit," paid a tribute to Secretary Carlisle and then proceeded to lay out the southern statesman. The character of southern statesmanship, he said, has decreased from the time be-fore the war and her senators and congressmen today are as pigmies compared with the intellectual giants of that time. The statesmen of today show little signs of having studied the great economical questions affecting the interests of the Proceeding, Mr. Hewitt aimed to show that southerners did not understand the silver question, and continued: "There are statesmen from the south who have succumbed to the fallacy that positions in the supreme court of the United States are local questions to be settled on demand of local politicians. It might be supposed that the supreme court represented the whole United States and that everybody had a right to demand that it be filled without regard to politics or lo

Created a Commotion.

"It is not a football for ward politicians to kick about from one end of the United States to the other. Such men as Cal-Brenton, Reeves and Crawford would have resigned the high positions in the senate and gone home in sackcloth and ashes rather than abandon a princi ple such as this to a man without character or worth, and who had no right to speak for the great state of New York. These remarks created a commotion, but Mr. Hewitt continued without appearing to notice the sensation he was cau ing. He asked: "Are you less brave now than your fathers were 30 years ago, when they sacrificed everything they ossessed to their convictions, that you will allow your congressmen and senators to misrepresent both their country and Later the speaker went on to condemi the southern congressmen for their atti

The gauntlet thrown down was immediately taken up by James Lindsay Gor don, a young New York lawyer of Vir ginian birth. He defended the public men of the south, claimed that they were the level of other Americans in all respects, and pointed to high positions which many of them occupied. They were as well equipped morally and intel-

All Orders of Arrest Vacated by the House of Representatives.

BLAND'S LONG-SOUGHT QUORUM

Elusive as Ever.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—The galleries of the house were crowded yesterday in anticipation of a repetition of the disorderly scenes of the day before.

The house was called to order by Clerk Kerr, in the absence of Speaker Crisp, who is confined to his room by illness. He read a letter from the speaker appoint ing Mr. Richardson speaker pro tem, and Mr. Richardson took the chair.

Mr. Bland moved the previous question and declined to withdraw it to enable other gentleman to speak in their own right, but offered to yield to any one who

Mr. Reed raised the point of order that his motion related to a single individual; the substitute covered all of a class, which was clearly inadmissible. Mr. Bland moved that the gentleman from Pennsylvania (Mr. Adams) be excused. Later on he withdrew that motion and moved that all further proceeding under the call of the house, under which with. This would end all proceedings and vacate the arrests made.

After debate by Mr. Springer, Mr. Dock-

On Mr. Bland's motion to take up the seigniorage bill and close debate at a 'clock today, the house voted on division, 147 to 2. The point of no quorum was made, and the call of the yeas and

The remainder of the afternoon was exnausted in filibustering, and at 5 o'clock a recess was taken till 8 o'clock.

At the night session the first bill re orted was to a grant a pension to Mrs Fannie M. Norman, widow of a first lier tenant in the Florida Indian war in 1830 of $8 a month. She is 88 years old. The bill was laid aside with a favorable recommendation. Several other bills were reported, but the point of no quorum was raised, and at 9:30 the house adjourned.

May Try Reed's Rules. Every effort on the part of Speaker Crisp to secure a quorum for the passage of the Bland seigniorage bill having failed the friends of that measure are willing t have another, and are circulating a pet tion to that end, in the hope of agreeing upon some plan that will relieve them from their present dilemma.

The sentiment in favor of the speaker ounting a quorum, as was done in the Fifty-first congress by Speaker Reed, i hourly growing in favor. The silver advocates and the extreme Democrats have heretofore denounced that course, bu now, when they are desirous of securing the passage of their pet measure, they appear to be willing that it, or some other equally coercive plan, should be adopted. It is admitted that the Bland bill cannot pass unless some rule is adopted to compel those present to vote or be counted. Many of the members who have been co-operating with Bland to secure the passage of the seigniorage bill will not follow him longer than another day. Nearly a week has already been wasted, and they think that the house should proceed to the consideration of the appropriation bills that are now waiting for action and other important legisla-

PASADENA, Cal., Feb. 24 .- R. G. Dun, of the Mercantile Agency association, is at Rose cottage with his wife, and was questioned yesterday with regard to the arrest of Erastus Wiman. Wiman's peculations were known, Mr. Dun said, before his connection with the mercantile agency was severed. Asked why action had been so long delayed, Mr. Dun said it was largely on account of Wiman's wife and relatives.

With reference to the circular pub lished and industriously circulated about a month ago, by some unknown person in which were revealed many details of mercantile agencies and their methods, Mr. Dun said he did not attribute its authorship to Wiman, nor did it have the slightest bearing on the pushing of the case against him. He, however, thought that Wiman had given the author some valuable suggestions. "When the case comes to trial," said Mr. Dun, "all our charges will be fully substantiated."

Editorial Comment.

THE CITY of Woburn, Quincy's twin, must be run very economically, as the appropriation order for running expenses for 1894 is but $121,455.17. The total city tax, including debt and interest, is but $155,

THERE WAS one of the most gorgeous and magnificent displays of the aurora borealis last evening that has been seen here for many years. The great shafts of lights darted hither and thither across the 10 cts. lb. sky excelling any pyrotechnic display ever undertaken by man. At ten o'clock the heavens were one vast sheet of electric fire, extending to the zenith from all the points

QUINCY'S NEW CHURCH.

Lutheran Church on Granite Street.

The new Swedish Lutheran church this city is practically completed and the first service in it will be held this evening Editors and Proprietors. at 7.30 o'clock the programme of said Yearly subscription, $5; by the month, 50 service being the same as published Friday. cents. Single copies, 2 cents. Advertising The church is located on Granite street and being situated on high ground has a very commanding appearance. It is reached by a long flight of granite steps. The church is 40 x 60 and is of Quincy granite with the exception of the belfry and spire which are of wood. The spire is 100 feet high from the ground.

In the front of the church is a large door which opens into a vestibule 8 x 12, which has a tile floor. From the vestibule, entrance is had to the main auditorium which is 36 x 45. On the right of the main auditorium is an ante-room which is connected by large folding doors, so arranged that the whole can be made into one large room with a seating capacity of 500. The size of this ante-room is 15 x 36. The platform is at the extreme end of the building. A balcony with a seating capacity of twenty-five extends across the front end of the building, and it is here that the choir will be located, there being space in the tower for the organ. The interior of the building is plastered, the finish being evpress. The building has large windows of cathedral glass and is lighted at night by electricity, it also being piped for gas. It is heated by furnace.

The building committee were C. F. Carlson, Joseph F. Johnson and Dr. C. O. Trustees,-C. F. Carlson, Fritz Swanson

W. Robert Lofgren, August Hellquest. Deacons,-August Vider, C. F. Carlson Joseph F. Johnson, Fritz Swanson.

The history of the Swedish Lutheran church in this city dates back to February, 1889, when the society was organized with thirty-seven members. At this same meeting a call was extended to Dr. C. O. Young at that time a senior of the Augustan college and Theological seminary at Rock Island, Ill. Dr. Young accepted the call and took charge of the church in June of the same year delivering his first sermon in the vestry of Christ's church, where services were then held. Two weeks later the society hired Plumer's hall where services have since been held. The society then began looking about for a suitable site for a chnrch and the lot on Granite street was purchased. The members of the church and the Swedish people generally worked a day or more each on the lot and they also quarried the granite for the Mr. Philip Kelley, a well known citizen church which when completed will have of West Quincy, died this morning after a cost about $8000. Most of the money has been raised in small sums among the conof age and leaves a widow and eight chil-gregation although the Americans have also contributed, among whom were Henry H. Faxon, Charles F. Adams, John Q. Adams and Dr. William Everett.

There are in this city something like two thousand Swedes. They are law abiding and God fearing people, and are as a rule Lutherans, as they have all been reared in exhibition which closed in Boston last State church of Sweden. #### WOMAN'S HEROISM.

FEW PEOPLE REALIZE IT. What Heroic Efforts They make to Appear Cheerful and Happy.

[SPECIAL TO OUR LADY READERS.] How many, think you, have any idea of the suffering endured by so large a propor-tion of the women of America? Very few men have the slightest conception of the pain endured by so many women, even those of their own households, or the heroic efforts they make to appear cheerful and happy. Women ought to be told just where the langer lies, for their vhole future may lepend upon their knowledge, and how to overcome it. Lydia E. Pinkham solved the mystery after years of experi-ence and study. She unerringly traced the cause of nearly all of woman's suffering to the womb. Other years fol-lowed and her Vegetable Compound was given to the world. And now, after years of marvellous success, it is acknowledged the unfailing remedy for all forms of female complaints, ation, falling and displacements of the womb, irregularity, suppressed or painful menstruations, leucorrhea, bloating, flooding, backache, nervous prostration, kidney trouble, etc., and is found on the shelves of all respectable druggists.

Such cases as this of Mrs. M. F. Fozzy, of Campello, Mass., speak volumes. She says: "I was very sick. I did not ever expect to get up had stopped sud-denly. The pains all through my body were terrible. As a last resort I sent for a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and a box of her Liver Pills. I also used a package of her Sanative Wash "Relief came at once, and to-day I am a well woman. Menstruations regular, no backache, entirely cured of leucorrhoea and bearing down pains. Nothing equals Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

NOTICE TO INVENTORS.

THERE Was never a time in the history of our country when the demand for inventions and improvements in the arts and sciences generally was so great as now. The conveniences of mankind in the factory and work-shop, the household, on the farm, and in official life, require continual accessions to the appurtances and implements of each in order to save labor, time and expense. The political change in the administration of political change in the administration of government does not affect the progress of the American inventor, who, being on the alert and ready to perceive the existing deficiences, does not permit the affairs of government to deter him from quickly conceiving the remedy to overcome existing discrepancies. Too great care cannot be exercised in choosing a competent and skilful attorney to prepare and prosecute an appli-cation for patent. Valuable interests have been lost and destroyed in innumerable instances by the employment of incompetent counsel, and especially is this advice applicable to those who adopt the "No patent, no pay" system. Inventors who intrust their business to this class of attorneys do so at imminent risk, as the breadth and strength of the retent is rever considered in views. imminent risk, as the breadth and strength of the patent is never considered in view of a quick endeavor to get an allowance and obtain the fee then due. THE PRESS CLAIMS COMPANY, John Wedderburn, General Manager, 618 F street, N. W., Washington, D. Envy.

He was the first always. Fortune Shone bright in his face. I fought for years; with no effort He conquered the place. We ran; my feet were all bleeding.

But he won the race. Spite of his many successes, Men loved him the same; My one pale ray of good fortune Met scoffing and blame.

When we erred they gave him pity, But me-only shame, My home was still in the shadow; His lay in the sun.

I longed in vain; what he asked for

It straightway was done.

Once I staked all my heart's treasure,
We played—and he won. Yes, and just now I have seen him, Cold, smiling and blest, Laid in his coffin. God help me! While he is at rest,

I am cursed still to live-even Death loved him the best.

There is a better feeling in fancy cottons, though some goods are a shade lower. Woolen dress goods are steady, with fair demand, and though orders for heavy woolens and worsteds are light, they are a little better, some agents having made fair progress.

Encouragement is felt by some in the calculation that clothiers have done about 60 per cent of the usual spring business while manufacturers have done about 32 1-2 per cent, the clothiers' stocks must be reduced. While two purchases of wool, aggregating 800,000 pounds, are reported, all sales at the three chief markets show a decrease of 37.3 per cent. Boots and Shoes.

week show a decrease of 24.8 per cent, and for the month 19 per cent, against 20.2 in January, and buyers are doing very little, but in cheaper goods most factories are at work, though not with the full number of hands.

A larger demand gives encouragement in the iron and steel manufacture and increases the output of mills, though it is yet only 50 to 60 per cent of their capacity. Prices of commodities now average about 1.4 per cent higher than a month ago, but 11.7 per cent lower than a year ago, and, excepting this year, have never been as low on the whole as they are now.

BUSY WEEK IN THE SENATE.

Hawaii Will Occupy a Large Share of the Time.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26.—The battle over the Bland seigniorage bill will go merrily on in the house this week. Despite the many reverses Mr. Bland has met in his attempts to procure a quorum, he is as determined as ever to fight it out on this ine, if it takes all winter.

If he does not succeed, however, in th course of a few days, it is not probable that the speaker and his associates on the rules committee will permit his bill to longer block the path of business. As the opponents of the measure have now adopted an open filibustering policy, a rule will be formulated by the committee on rules to prevent this and bring the vote down directly to Mr. Bland's motion.

In the Senate. The senate has made but little progress during the past two weeks in its efforts to clean up the calendar in advance of the forthcoming discussion of the tariff bill n the senate. If the opportunity is afforded, it will continue its work on the calendar during the present week.

A Boston Mystery.

Boston, Feb. 26.-A large quantity of prepared ammunition which has been stored in the police headquarters for a number of years is missing, and the mili tary and police officials of this city would like to know what has become of it. It was placed there in case of any sudden call upon the state militia for service, and the key of the cell where the am-10 cts. ib. munition was stored was turned over to the adjutant general. The loss was discovered when the inspector general of rifle practice visited the headquarters last week to inspect the condition of the stored cartridges. There is quite a monetary loss in this disappearance, and the adjutant general is wondering who will stand the loss.

Is Said to Spread Over the Cornell Banquet Case.

STUDENT WHO WAS TO CONFESS

Cannot Now Be Found Within Ithaca's Boundary.

ITHACA, N. Y., Feb. 26.-The complications in the Cornell banquet case are still growing. Many are the reports which re flect upon the integrity of the officials whose duty it is to ferret out the culprits. The fact that the city elections come or the same time as the investigation of the case has occasioned open charges as to the insincerity of the men of the two political parties. A large number of the students vote in Ithaca.

The important phase of the situation is the positive statement of Mr. Holden, a graduate student, who is well acquainted with Mr. Dingens, that he saw him yes terday. A reporter called at Mr. Dingens esidence, and Mr. Taylor, his room mate, said that he was expected last evening. Their conflicting statements lead strongly to the assumption that Dingens is in Ithaca, but that his friends are con cealing his whereabouts. A prominent student last evening said that Dingens hastily left Ithaca shortly after the banquet, but returned to the city to disclose the entire matter, and that the statements of Professor Collins and the arguments of companions induced him to lay low. This theory is furthered by the current opinion that he had not obtained leave of absence from the university. The assistant registral children, five boys and one girl, all stated that he believed Mr. Dingens had "Mother Was Dying."

He did recollect, however, of a studen rushing up to him and saying that he wanted to leave immediately, as his mother was dying, and he was allowed to both before and after the war, being a pupil of Garnier and later of Francois formal leave of absence on his return. The opening exercises at the new Swedish Lutheran church, on Granite street, were held Saturday night and were about six inches and the wind was blowlargely attended, every available seat ing lively last evening, when the White Yearly subscription, $5; by the month, 50 being taken. Dr. C. O. Young, pastor of the church had charge of the exercises the church had charge of the exercises associates started off on their second which were in accordance with the programme published in Saturday's LEDGER.

Admission to the opening exercises was by a memorial card which were sold for 50 tary of the lighthouse board. It was a $300 was added to the building fund. Most of the exercises were in the Swedish language although a few remarks were made in English by Dr. Young.

The services Sunday at 10.30 A. M., and 7.30 P. M. were also largely attended, the Collections were taken at each of these services and as a result quite a sum was added to that collected Saturday evening. The building committee and trustees did excellent work, from first to last, particularly Mr. W. R. Lofgren, the builder, who has taken a great personal interest in the church. It is a church of which any society in the city might be proud. Mr Lofgren has built churches in Waltham, Boston and Rockport and has one now in progress in Millville. He has also erected several houses in this city.

Political change in the administration of government does not affect the progress of the American inventor, who, being on the the American inventor, who, being on the alert and ready to perceive the existing deficiences, does not permit the affairs of government to deter him from quickly conceiving the remedy to overcome existing discrepancies. Too great care cannot be exercised in choosing a competent and kilful attorney to prepare and prosecute an application for patent. Valuable interests have been lost and destroyed in innumerable instances by the employment of incompetent stances by the employment of incompetent counsel, and especially is this advice appli-cable to those who adopt the "No patent, no pay" system. Inventors who intrust their business to this class of attorneys do so at imminent risk, as the breadth and strength imminent risk, as the breadth and strength of the patent is never considered in view of a quick endeavor to get an allowance and obtain the fee then due. ### TRAVELS IN AFRICA

Entertainingly Described by an Austrian Army Officer.

WAS WITH THE CHANLER PARTY.

"Rhino's" Wound Compelled Him to Return Home.

VIENNA, Feb. 26 .- After an absence of nearly two years, spent in exploring northeast Africa, Lieutenant Ludwig Ritter von Hohnel of the Austrian navy has returned to Vienna, On arriving last week at Fiume he was met by his old comrade, Explorer Count WOLLASTON-Ross' news stand and Samuel Teleki, who accompanied him to Buda Pesth, where the still open wound of the State Home for Feeble Minded ated upon by Professor Lumbitzer, and great relief given.

Von Hohnel is a Hungarian, and was born at Pressburg in 1857. He was in Teleki's expedition in 1886, which, after basement of a two years' exploring, resulted in the discovery of Lakes Rudolph and Stephanie in northeast Africa.

"You wish he to tell you about the Chanler expedition?" remarked the explorer. "Well, we had desperate ill luck. It followed us everywhere, and during the time I was with Mr. Chanler rendered all our best efforts fruitless.

"I made Mr. Chanler's acquaintance in 1891. 'Se same year I met Chanler in Vienna, when he told me his intention to explore the Borani country lying east-ward of Lake Rudolph. The district is believed to be fertile and interesting.

The Start. "If ever success seemed to favor an expedition at the outset it was this one. We started from Lamu, on the Zanzibar coast, on Sept. 18, 1892, with 185 men, all in good health and in the best of spirits. We were thoroughly organized. We had cattle, donkeys and camels, and 10 canoes laden with food were accompanying our caravan. The route to Borani is a very bad one. Nov. 26 had arrived, when we reached Borani all well. "Then came our ill luck. Our beasts of burden began to die at Borani, as if stricken with a plague. There was a serious plight for us. We formed a store camp here inside the deserted palisade, erected some time previous by the British East African company. "Our caravan had come to a dead halt from loss of transport Chanler and myself determined to proceed northward to the Guasso-Njiro river, whose source and outlet I had discovered in my Teleki expedition. George Galvin, Chanler's servant, went to the coast on a similar mission. From the date of our departure, on Dec. 5, 1892, to the day the rhinoceros charged at me, Aug. 22, 1893, we explored without success the entire district for transport beasts.

A Hopeless Task,

"When we struck the Guasso-Njiro we had days of weary wandering along its banks, seeking for transport animals, ex-perienced cruel hunger, and finally, on Jan. 24, after a hopeless search, with 75 men, set out a second time for the Djam-

The Alecto On March 9, 1893, we determined to set thereupon returned to Bathurst for reout for Daitcho, 45 miles northeast of Mt. Kenia. We had obtained 12 head of cat-tle. We had again a weary struggle for a passage along the densely jungled banks of the Tana river. On March 27 we arrived at Daitcho, having lost heavily in loads, beasts and through runaways. But the climate was good and the people peaceful.

"Leaving Galvin at Daitcho and sending runners to Mobasa for cattle and men, Chanler and myself again started out on June 5 to find the Rendili. We soon crossed the Djambeni range and afterwards the Guasso-Njiro river.

The Fight With a "Rhino." "It was here my episode with the rhinoceros occurred Aug. 22, 1893. We with a black tracker and nine or 10 men, was about 400 yards ahead of me. "As regards the ultimate result of the expedition, I am afraid that through lack of transportation Chanler has not been able to advance to the Borani country, the goal he desired to reach. I know that on Oct. 18, 1893, a caravan from Turkana to Mobasa sold to one of Mr. Chanler's agents 50 donkeys. These, I understand, arrived safely at Daitcho. > The fire was discovered at 8 a. m. in the basement of a handsome three-story brick structure. There was a high wind and a scarcity of water, and before help could be summoned the entire building was filled with smoke and flame. Sixteen helpless children slept on the lower floors. The little ones slept the sleep of the innocent, while the deadly flames and stifling smoke crept nearer and nearer to them. In the upper floors were about the same number of adults, all in like danger.

Just at the critical moment help came, tus Speer, a stage driver, broke down the doors and rushed into the burning building, rescuing the children at the imminent risk of their own lives and carrying them to a place of safety through the bitter cold winds. The women who had slept in the upper floors also escaped.

It was thought that all had been saved, when the white and terror-stricken faces of Sage and his wife appeared at a window in the third floor and their voices were heard crying piteously for help. Just as a ladder was being raised, both disappeared from the window and were burned to a crisp.

THE COTTON BUSINESS

Is In a Bad Way, With No Signs of Im FALL RIVER, Mass., Feb. 27.-The annual meeting of the Cotton Manufacturers' association was held yesterday afternoon, and the officers of last year were re elected: Bradford D. Davol, president; Holder B. Durfee, vice president; C. C. Rounsville, secretary and treasurer.

After the regular business of the meet ing had been transacted the business situation was discussed. The opinion that business was in a bad way was unanimous, but methods of remedy and relief proposed were almost as many as the members present. Arguments were offered in favor of a cutdown in wages and of a shutdown. A strong claim was made that a cutdown would not relieve the strain. The present price for cloth left most of the mills with a loss, and the stock on hand was constantly increasing. A cutdown in wages would reduce cost, but it would not result in a curtailment

The weight of opinion was that there had been an over-production that pre-vented a normal demand for goods. The general depression throughout the country was held to be even more responsible for the bad business in cotton goods. No attempt was made to have any action taken with regard to a cutdown or shutdown. It was desired to get a general expression of opinion from the manufacturers. The meeting was adjourned for two weeks, when the situation will be more fully discussed and possibly some action taken.

CHICAGO, Feb. 27 .- "Yes, I am a Mason, said Mrs. Mary Ellen Lease, in her room at the Palmer House. "It is surprising how that assertion of mine has been sent all over the country," and Mrs. Lease laughed with all the glee of a schoolgirl. "Why, do you know, that I have received telegrams from several New York papers offering me sums from $50 and up to tell the story of how I became a Mason. When I was 16 years of age, living in Lockport, N. Y., a friend of mine who was a prominent Mason put it in my way to witness a Masonic initiation, and I saw the three degrees administered to a candi

Some idea of the extent of such advertising can be formed when one considers the fact that a 5-inch electrotype weighs but a few ounces, and that eight tons consists of 256,000 ounces, or an amount sufficient to furnish all the leading publications of America with more than five electrotypes each.

on the Moss Grown Gold Brick Swindle. With eyes brimful of happy anticipation an aged woman presented two "kings" of bright metal to the chief weigher at the mint. She believed that the two lumps of metal-were gold worth $30,000, and when informed that they were but copper and zinc, worth $2 or $3, she turned away with a heavy heart and sought the train to bear her back to her home in Jackson, Mich. She had paid $12,000 for the stuff and had jour-

The story of the unfortunate woman's loss was told to the mint officials. She was Mrs. Harriet Morgan, who resides in Jackson, and with her were her sonin-law, Charles Helleg, and Dr. Blanchard, the family physician. Some 13 years ago Mrs. Morgan, who is quite wealthy, had advanced to a nephew $6, 000 to start a business. He was profuse in his expressions of gratitude and promised that as business prospered with him he would return the loan with ample interest. The nephew went away, and his aunt heard nothing of him until reone day a stranger came to her with the announcement that he represented her nephew. The latter had prospered well in gold mining, and as an evidence of his success had sent her two gold bricks or "kings." These weighed fully 85 pounds and were worth $30,000. These the nephew desired to present to his aunt in return for her loan and another small payment. Mrs. Morgan, delighted, paid the stranger $6,000 and received the "kings," which she guarded carefully.—Philadelphia Record.

The great question whether waiters ought to be tipped is just now agitating the house of commons a good deal more ganization on awaking. than the fight with the lords over the employers' liability and parish councils bills, of which, truth to tell, everybody is getting a bit tired. But the tip question affects the private pockets of the honorable members, and their interest in it is consequently keen. It has always been the rule in the commons that the waiters in the dining rooms should not receive tips because living wages are paid to them, but of late years tipping has pretty generally prevailed, and the men learned to expect tips as much as though they were common cafe waiters. A goodly proportion of the members, however, refused to countenance the system, with the result that they have of late found themselves neglected. Recently there have been so many complaints that the kitchen committee solemnly appointed a subcommittee to inquire, and the result was the issuing of an order prohibiting waiters from receiving tips and granting to each waiter an increase of a shilling a day. The waiters calmly pocket the shilling, but continue to take the tips whenever they get a chance, and it has become a question what shall be done with the honorable and right honorabl gentlemen who thus defy committees

Prior to his embarkation for America at the outbreak of the Revolutionary war Major Andre went to visit a friend. Miss Rebecca Steward, who lived in Derbyshire. During his stay it was arranged that they should ride over to view the wonders of the famous Peak. It was also Miss Steward's desire to introduce the major to some friends in the neighborhood, including a Mr. Newton and the curate of the parish, Mr. Cunningham. She had given both these gentlemen notice of her intention, and while awaiting her arrival Mr. Cunningham took occasion to tell Mr. Newton the circumstances of a dream he had had the night before, which affected him so that he could not shake off the recollection of it. He said that he was standing in the midst of a forest that was entirely strange to him. After gazing listlessly around him for a few moments he perceived a horseman approaching at great speed. As the latter came opposite the spot where the dreamer stood three men who seemed to have been lying in ambush sprang from their place of concealment, and seizing the bridle of the horse ordered the rider to dismount. They then carefully searched his person and led him away. The face, figure and bearing of the horseman made so deep an impression upon Mr. Cunningham's mind that he awoke, but falling asleep again presently dreamed that he a great city; that he saw the same person he had seen seized in the wood large stove in Tappen's billiard rooms brought out between files of soldiers, and Miss Steward arrived, Mr. Cunningburning pepper soon drove everybody ham was horror struck to discover in the person of Miss Steward's friend the very man whose seizure and execution he had witnessed in his dream.

A TALK ON TARIFF.

Democratic Senators Are Not All of the Same Mind

BILLS OF FINANCE COMMITTEE

Given Out With Strict Injunctions of Secrecy.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27 .- The Democrats of the senate spent almost the entire day in caucus discussing the tariff bill. The senate finance committee, which was called to consider the bill prepared by the sub-committee, was adjourned soon after assembling, and all the Democratic senators in the city who were not confined to their homes by illness were in the marble room, where the caucus was held for an hour and a half before the senate met, and at 1 o'clock, after a brief session, agained entered the caucus and remained until 5:30 p. m.

Senator Voorhees briefly explained the manner in which the bill had been prepared, while Senator Vest explained the bill at some length. A number of the changes and the reason why they were Senator Vest severely criticised Senator

Brice for stating in a New York World interview that the bill was prepared by three brigadier generals who were idealists, and that northern and southern Democrats had been ignored.

Brice Had Backing. Senator Brice replied vigorously, de claring that the statement was true. He also took occasion to criticise some of the sectional features of the bill, and pointed out that certain kinds of iron, which was practically raw material to the manufacturers, were taxed. Senator Brice made quite an extended speech, and his remarks were largely sustained by Senators Morgan, Lindsay, Pugh, Butler and others from the south.

Speeches were also made by Senators Gorman, Jones, White of Louisiana, Caffrey, Morgan, Faulkner, Gray, Martin and spoke at considerable length on the sugar schedule, and made an urgent appeal for an increase of the duty on sugar over the the mot figure agreed upon by the Democratic members of the finance committee. Senator Caffrey spoke in very much the same strain, as did also Senator Martin who reminded the caucus of the part pledge for a tariff bill for revenue. He that he had "white patches" all over his body, and he believed he was going to turn into a leopard. He was taken into the consultation room and told to strip. Dr. Priest was called in and the case pronounced one of leucoderma. There were about eight spots on the man's chest and stomach varying in size from 2 to 6 inches in diameter. One-half of the back of each hand was white, and the legs from the knee down were entirely so, with the exception of two or three black splotches on each calf. There were also patches of white skin on the upper part of the legs, the thighs and back. His face had not yet the municipal guard tried to arrest the begun to turn. His original skin was a ringleader. He met with resistance from dark coffee brown color, and he had the leader's friends, and an effort was made to lynch him. The guard was resoft whickers of whiskers. Johnson said he had noticed white spots on his hands about a year ago, but paid no attention to them. Then a large spot developed on each side of his chest, the furniture of the reading room. From which was followed by two on his legs. So it continued until he became alarmed and consulted a doctor. The man has no money, though he is physically able to do any kind of work. Dr. Homan says the chances are that if he lives long enough he will become entirely white. The cases are very rare, there being not more than one in every 10,000 negroes who become afflicted with it .-St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

No Raving Indulged In at the Meeting of Boston's Unemployed.

A GATHERING IN FANEUIL HALL

Socialistic Rally.

Boston, Feb. 28.-Those who expected that the scenes of a week ago would recur at yesterday's regular demonstration of the unemployed of the city were disappointed. The demonstration came off as announced, but from the gathering on the Common to the breaking up of the meeting in Faneuil hall, no serious raving of any sort was to be heard.

The gathering was under the leadership of Swift and Casson, the Equity union agitators. These people had been warned by the authorities that no speaking could take place on the Common, and that they would not be allowed in the state house as a body. Governor Greenhalge had been invited by them to make an address, but he declined, saying that he preferred to leave the matter with the legislature, in whose hands it now is.

EYESIGHT IS FAILING.

British Newspapers Think That Gladstone Will Resign.

As the Probable Successor to the Premiership.

Lendon, Feb. 28.-A physician visited

Mr. Gladstone yesterday and remained with him for some time, but the premier devoted the morning to his usual official work, and was visited frequently by the secretary to the treasury, Mr. Majoribanks. The Standard believes it is a fact that Mr. Gladstone's eyesight is growing much worse and that an operation will soon be necessary. Recognizing this fact, Mr. Gladstone informed his colleagues that his early retirement was inevitable, but that it would be only temporary. He told them that he would resume the premiership should his eyes become strong enough to warrant it.

No Dissension. The Chronicle says the resignation of Mr. Gladstone is imminent. It is almost an open secret that his eyesight is no longer equal to even the least important duties of a political leader. All stories of dissension or disappointment at legislation being balked may be dismissed as wholly unaffecting his decision. When Mr. Gladstone resigns the wand it will be because his hand can no longer wield it, and for no other reason whatever. It is probable that no decision has yet been reached as to the moment of his resigna

The Times thinks that the denial of Mr. Gladstone's actual resignation may be accepted without question by those unable to adopt the belief that the alarn in the Radical camp was altogether causeless, but its semi-official denial sig nifies a postponement of the crisis. Commenting on the rumors, The Daily News says that in view of Mr. Gladstone's age it is only right that the Liberal's should consider the future. If the infirmities of age make his onerous duties irksome, it would be inhuman to keep Mr. Gladstone at his post merely because of a difference of opinion prevailing in reference to the choice of his successor. It is announced that Mr. Sexton, M. P. for Kerry, has already taken steps to ob tain pledges with regard to home rule in premier, which now appears to be the pre vailing opinion.

The latest news is furnished by the WASHINGTON, Feb. D.—Representative Edinburgh Evening News, which an-Taylor introduced a resolution reciting nounces the fact that Mr. Gladstone has resigned the premiership. It was thereupon offered to Earl Spencer, first lord of the admiralty, and he accepted it.

About Spencer. John Pointz Spencer, who is said to have accepted the premiership, was born Oct. 27, 1835, and was educated at Harrow and at Trinity college, Cambridge, where he graduated in 1857. Earl Spencer was groom of the prince consort, 1859-61, and groom of the Prince of Wales from 1862-67. He was appointed lord lieutenant of Ireland in December, 1868, and retained that office until the resignation of the Gladstone ministry in February, 1874. When the Liberals re turned to office in May, 1880, Earl Spencer was appointed lord president of the coun-

Burke, the under secretary, were stabbed to death in Phoenix park, close to the castle. Some time later Earl Spencer was called upon to administer the provisions of the crimes act. Earl Spencer, in March, 1883, re signed the office of lord president of the council but remained a member of the cabinet until the close of Mr. Gladstone's administration in June, 1885. When Mr. Gladstone returned to office in February, 1886, Earl Spencer became for the second time lord president of the council, and as he had by that time adopted home rule opinions, his support was of great value to the government. In August, 1892, Earl Spencer became first lord of the admiralty.

Earl Spencer is chancellor of the Vic toria university. The University of Dub-lin conferred on him, June 13, 1883, the honorary degree of LL. D. The earl is lord lieutenant of Northamptonshire and chairman of the county council. The earl in 1858 married Charlotte Frabos Fredica, fourth daughter of Frederick Charles William Seymour. They have no

of the Unemployed. Boston, Feb. 28.-It was a busy day in the committee rooms at the state house, and every one of the chambers was occu-

The chief point of interest was the green oom, where the Boston subway question was taken up by the transit committee, Mayor Matthews of Boston describing the plan at length and with minute particuarity. Among the other hearings the one of dominant interest was the hear-Falls, R. I., are the guest of Mrs. Horace ing upon the petitions of the trade associations for relief from double taxation. The blue room was crowded, principally with lot owners, at the Woodlawn ceme tery hearing, and nearly all the other rooms were thronged. In the senate the petition of the unemployed was referred to the special committee appointed to devise means of re-lief, in non-concurrence with the house, referring the petition to the special committee and the joint committee on labor, sitting jointly.

The investigation of the legality of the ease of the Connecticut River railroad by the Boston and Maine corporation is likely to end in the acquittal of the road of intended wrong. At a hearing before the committee on railroads Senator Buckley, who introduced the order of investigation, admitted that no one along the line of the railroad was dissatisfied with Lovell Diamond club at East Weymouth, the leasing of the road. General Counsel Strout of the Boston and Maine road stated that the Boston and Maine was desirous of preventing the New England traffic being diverted to New York city and also to secure the heavy Pennsyl vania coal traffic for the Central Massachusetts road.

The committee on manufactures re ported a bill relative to the establishment of municipal gas and electric lighting plants. The bill provides that any city or town voting to establish such plants in lieu of issuing bonds may provide for the payment of the debt incurred in annual payment of such amounts as will extinguish the obligations within a term not exceeding 30 years.

In the house the committee on educa tion reported against a bill allowing children of non-resident taxpayers to at tend free of expense schools of towns in which their parents pay taxes.

The committee on banks and banking reported leave to withdraw on a petition for legislation placing deposits in savings banks on interest monthly.

The committee on finance reported : bill appropriating $43,000 for operation of a bill which had been previously reported appropriating in addition to the $43,000 an additional $89,000 for operation of the sewer in 1895. There was considerable discussion of the bill when first reported and it ended in a recommitment.

Intemperance the Leading Cause of Neglect and Cruelty.

The LEDGER's attention has been called to the the thirteenth annual report of the HEARN'S STORE, Massachusetts Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children for the year 1893. By request we publish the "specimen cases" which the report says, "gives an imperfect idea of our work, for many cases are not suitable for a printed description. As heretofore, the leading causes of neglect and cruelty are intemperance and the increase of the foreign element by importation and birth. Drunkenness prevails in this class and neglect follows. Children growing up in such families see little recognition of the rights of property, witness scenes of vulgarity, brutality, and lack of modesty, and, of course, become Working Shoes, pupils in a 'school of crime,' To rescue them and place them under better influences is working for the next generation and is a work of economy and morality." 13917. Complaint was made that a little Ladies Button Shoes, boy, three years old, was abused by the people with whom his mother boarded him. We found the child in such a condition that he was brought to our office. The sight of the child was enough to stir one's indignation to the utmost,-face and BOYS' SHOES, eyes blackened and body bruised from head furniture was put on the street and sold to foot. When asked how it happened, he sent to our Home, and obtained a warrant stitutions during minority. Winkfield Bros., for the arrest of the woman. As soon as the cocks began to crow the maiden turned into a nightingale again and woke the prince with her song.

One day the old queen mother sent for the prince and said to him: "My dear son, next month you will be 18 years old and will then be crowned king. A king should also have a queen. the prince, and went off to his nightingale. Next day the princess arrived, driving in a glass coach. The queen stood, with her son and all the court, on the castle steps, and the prince lifted his beautiful bride from the carriage. Her long silken train rustled behind her like the sound of a forest brook. Up stairs, in the king's hall, was laid a splendid feast, drums and trumpets were sounded, and the prince sat beside his bride and rejoiced in her beauty and her wit.

That evening when he went to his apartment he was quite shocked, be cause for the first time he had forgotten to care for his nightingale, and the poor bird sat dumb and sat upon its perch with its wings limply drooping. But when the prince had laid himself down upon his couch she sang to him more beautifully than ever before, and the prince fell asleep to dream of his bride. Once he awoke; it seemed to him that a burning drop had fallen upon his brow, but sleep quickly overcame him again, and he went on dreaming. Next day when the court had assembled for more feasting the princess said nightingales in golden cages and fed to the prince: "They say you cherish a precious nightingale. Will you not even let me once hear its voice?" And the prince ordered a servant to bring the bird's cage to him. But the nightingale sat dumb on her perch and

They heard the spring zephyrs stir among the tree tops, the gurgling of the brooks, and through it all the passionately sad song of a lover. Poor nightingale!

The young princess went close to her betrothed and laying her hand upon his arm said: "Beloved, give me the nightingale. It is the first boon I have ever asked of you." And the prince nodded. "Take her.

he said; "she is yours." Then the nightingale beat her wings and raised her voice again. Her song sounded like the lamentation of a sufering heart. Suddenly she ceased and fluttered limply from the prince's hand to the ground. "Her heart is broken," said some one, and the courtiers gathered around. But a dreadful feeling of fear came over them all, for there on the floor, instead of a bird, lay the body of a beautiful maiden, whose pale lips were stained with blood. The guests scattered like a flock of doves at sight of a hawk. The bride called her servants to her and rode at once away. But the old queen in blaze of fury ordered that the body of the enchantress who had bewitched her son with her satanic arts should be given to the flames. The unfortunate girl's body was burned by the executioner, but from the ashes there grew an elder tree with fragrant many cupped blossoms. By that the people knew that the maiden had gone to happiness. But from that moment all joy had vanished forever from the prince's heart. From early morn to dusk he sat the German.

A young married woman, living in the east end, had a peculiar dream one evening. She dreamed that she was down town on Euclid avenue with her baby and was preparing to board a car to go home. The step of the new Euclid avenue motor was rather high, and she requested a gentleman to hold her baby while she boarded the car. He consented, but before he could return the infant to the arms of its mother the car started and left without the child The grief of the young woman was intense, and so troubled was her mind that she awoke. Her relief at finding it all a dream was so great that she decided to buy a book on dreams and learn what it all signified.

The next day she called at a down town book store and related her dream to the clerk, who chanced to be an acquaintance. She purchased the book and turned to the index, where she found that such a dream as she experienced foretold that the dreamer would receive twice as much as she had lost.

NOTICE TO INVENTORS.

THERE Was never a time in the history of our country when the demand for inventions and improvements in the arts and sciences generally was so great as now. The conveniences of mankind in the factory and work-shop, the household, on the farm, and in official life, require continual accessions to the appurtances and implements of each in order to save labor, time and expense. The political change in the administration of political change in the administration of government does not affect the progress of the American inventor, who, being on the alert and ready to perceive the existing deficiences, does not permit the affairs of government to deter him from quickly conceiving the remedy to overcome existing dis crepancies. Too great care cannot be exercised in choosing a competent and -kilful attorney to prepare and prosecute an appli-cation for patent. It is expected the general debate will close this evening. The program then is that the bill shall be gone ever by schedules, and the finance committee instructed by suggestion or votes of the caucus as to what changes shall be made.

The general tone of the caucus was against trusts, and several statements indicated that if any of the present duties or proposed duties favored trusts, the committee would be instructed to make alterations. There was talk for coal and iron ore, and for lead, by various senators, but very little could be shown as to how the senators viewed these matters. The senators from New York, New Jersey and Delaware took occasion to propose the income tax feature of the bill.

Louisiana Lecturess Thinks So and Gives Interesting Reason The title of a lecture by a Mrs. Field of New Orleans recently was "Come South, Young Woman." She said she was a writer on the only great daily in the world that is owned by a woman, referring to The Picayune and its chief owner, Mrs. E. J. Nicholson. Of Louisiana she said that it was waiting to be cut up into small holdings by young Corydons and Phyllises, who will grow cotton for the central factories, have market gardens, orchards, dairy farms and poultry yards, and who will also grow flowers and make honey. She spoke of Louisiana as already possessing a woman steamboat captain-Mary Miller-and as "a state that builds a monument to the memory as 1 to 9. of a woman who never had on a kid glove in all her life, who could not write her name, who was only great in her goodness. That was Margaret Haughey, the baker woman whose loaves built asylums and yet feed thousands of hungry Mrs. Field said that she had seen a kitchen garden whose products equaled any shown at the Chicago fair, and yet they were raised by two young girls. Near by, in the same parish of Cameron a young Iowa girl squatter, with her 16year-old brother, took up a government claim of 160 acres and went to planting rice, the first crop of which paid her $1,200. She lives in a three room cottage and has a few fruit trees, plenty of good fences and a sea of waving rice blades. Her nearest neighbor is another girl farmer, who also settled a government claim and is bossing an orchard that is already giving her a comfortable living. The lecturess also told a story of were in league with gamblers and other violators of the law. Dr. Smythe said and who bought 20 acres of Louisiana that if immediate action was not taken land out of her savings and sent her by the commissioners the Law and Order | mother and brother down there to start a poultry farm. They have been so successful that she is about to join them and add small fruits and vegetables to the crops on her land, being assured of becrops on her land, being assured of becoming independent thereby.

Mrs. Field said that all along the Illi nois Central in the river bottom land of Mississippi and Louisiana "are fruit and vegetable farms managed by womenmost of them newcomers." They manage the farms and pack the berries and vegetables for the Chicago market. On an old plantation near New Orleans is an old woman who grows camellias and has been to Europe twice on the profits. In Grant parish, in the Red river country, father's cotton gin and gins 1,800 bales a year. "She handles that snorting machine as if it were a baby; oils it, feeds it, fools over it, scolds it, tidies it up, and when it is working as good as gold she sits beside it-dear, dainty and only 18crocheting lace for her petticoats.'

Katherine L. Minor of the board of lady managers of the Columbian exposition is a Louisiana planter, and, according to this lecturess, in every parish are women farmers, stock raisers and planters. Mrs. Field herself wears a medal that was the gift of the women of 20 different trades and professions followed by the working women of New Orleans. "Women are a power in the south," she says-though that is not a new idea-"of fearful force when they organize. I claim it was the women of Louisiana who killed the Louisiana state whether women are safe in the south, she answers boldly that "every man is her guard of honor." Accompanied only 1,800 miles in a private vehicle in Louisievery man's hat is off to the working woman, and she holds securely whatever position her virtues, her brains and her woman," she says, "and you will flower will learn what it is to be free, and there a woman may be as she wills-an ant in the morning, a bee at noon, and a but-terfly at night."—New York Sun.
